Demonstrations Rise In Violence

SEOUL, Aug. 8 (P)—Barrages of rocks injured 15 U. S. soldiers at Pusan yesterday and today as South Korean demonstrations against Communist truce inspectors rose in violence.

None of the Americans was hurt seriously. The atmosphere was tense in South Korea. The demonstrations showed no sign of abating and fresh trouble could break out at any time.

The U. S. 8th Army officially denied Korean charges that three—some reports said five—Korean war veterans were bayoneted Saturday at Pusan, Korea's south-east port.

Korean National Police, nevertheless, sent the United Nations Command an angry protest. They charged U. S. soldiers used both tear gas and bayonets against Korean demonstrators.

The Korean police also asserted that another Korean was jabbed by a bayonet at Taegu, in south central Korea.

They said a U. S. soldier prodded the Korean with a bayonet when he blocked road traffic by staging a sitdown against the Red truce inspectors. The U. S. Army said it was unable to confirm the report.

Police said three other Koreans were struck by rocks and injured slightly when U. S. soldiers drove them off as they tried to approach a truce team's compound at Seoul's port of Inchon. The compound is on an island and the Koreans tried to reach it in boats.

About 300 youths, including anti-Communist former war prisoners, were reported blocking the causeway which leads to the island.

Armored cars and U. S. and Korean military police guarded the causeway.

In Kunsan, on Korea's west coast, five demonstrators crawled over the fence around the truce team's compound and were chased out by U. S. soldiers.

Ribicoff Booms Harriman

Gov. Abraham Ribicoff, Connecticut Democrat, said Harriman has a "wonderful springboard" for the party nomination as chief executive of the Empire State. On the basis of Harriman's statements on public issues and the actions of his political associates, Ribicoff added, "I would say that Harriman is a candidate."

The two governors from opposite sides of the country spoke up in news conferences as first governors began arriving here for their 47th annual conference.

Preliminaries get under way tomorrow, business sessions Wednesday, and politics officially is taboo. But politics is very much on the minds of the state executives, with the presidential and congressional elections on tap next year and three out of every five gubernatorial seats at stake, too.

Adlai "Weak" In California

Here in the home state of Adlai Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, Knight predicted that if Stevenson repeats as a nominee he will lose California by as large a margin or a bigger one than three years ago.

With evident reference to the position of Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas, Knight said Stevenson "doesn't have the capacity to attract the southern bloc as Governor Harriman might."

Shivers, an Eisenhower Democrat in 1952, told reporters yesterday he will oppose renomination for Stevenson and won't support him if Stevenson gets the party nod.

Ribicoff said Stevenson "won't be drafted again. If he wants the nomination, he must come out and say so."

APPEALS OUSTED — Dr. Frank Horne, Negro adviser on minority problems to Housing Administrator Albert Cole, explains at his Washington home that he is being fired after 19 years in government service, 17 of which have been with the housing agency. Horne, a Democrat, said he received a dismissal notice effective Aug. 25 and the reason given is budgetary action. "There ain't no such animal," Horne said, adding that he has filed an appeal. American Talks With Red China Remain Snarled

GENEVA, Aug. 8 (P)—The United States and Red China failed today in a fourth attempt to agree on release of 40 Americans held in China but a Communist source said "some progress was made."

This informant said the 2½ hour secret meeting of American ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Red China's envoy, Wang Ping-nan, was conducted in "a friendly atmosphere."

The report came from a source close to the Chinese delegation. It lacked any confirmation from either Johnson or Wang, who have kept secret the progress of their negotiations since the first meeting Aug. 1. They issued a statement today saying they intended to remain silent, unless there is mutual agreement to make a public report. The statement said their talks have been confined so far to an exchange of views on return of civilians of their two countries.

This is the first of two subjects on their agenda. The talks will be broadened later, on the second item, to "other practical matters now at issue" between the United States and Communist China.

The Chinese last week delivered a list of approximately 80 Americans now living on the China mainland. The U. S. seeks the release of 40 it says are either under arrest or refused exit permits.

In return, the unofficial Communist source said, the Chinese asked for a list of Chinese nationals in the United States, and proposed a third country—India—to represent their interests in matters of repatriation. This was branded a "sinister maneuver" by the Chinese Nationalist government, which contended it would mean recognition that Peiping, rather than the Formosa government, has legal claim to these Chinese.

After today's meeting, the longest so far, the talks were recessed until Wednesday.

Conference Told Nuclear Power Development Vital

Present Fuels Seen Exhausted In Next Century

GENEVA, Aug. 8 (P)—The 72-nation atoms-for-peace conference opened today on the note that atomic heating and electrical power must be developed widely to cope with diminishing supplies of major conventional fuels.

Dr. Homi J. Bhabha, president of the United Nations-sponsored parley and director of India's atomic energy project, declared "it is probable that, at the rate at which the world consumption of energy is increasing," the recoverable world reserves of coal, oil, gas and oil shale "will be exhausted in under a century."

Hydroelectric power "is never likely to contribute more than a small fraction of the total energy consumption of the world, since the total potential capacity is relatively limited," the Indian scientist said.

Success In 20 Years Seen

He predicted a method will be found "within the next two decades" of harnessing the atomic fusion process—the same one used in the fearsome H-bomb—for man's beneficial use.

It was the first statement by a high atomic official of any country putting any kind of a timetable on possibilities of taming the H-bomb reaction.

Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission promised newsmen today he would comment on Bhabha's statement later this week.

Two British scientists said they wanted "to strike a note of urgency and to indicate the pace at which it is important that the world shall make progress with the development of nuclear energy."

Saying the total world demand for commercial energy can be expected to increase, for some time at least, at a rate of at least two per cent a year, E. A. Robinson of Cambridge University and G. H. Daniel of Britain's Ministry of Fuel and Power declared: "If expansion continued at two per cent a year to the year 2050, the remaining reserves (of solid fuel liquid fuels and natural gas) would fall to about 150 years; with a three per cent rate of growth they would be within 40 years of exhaustion."

In another development today, Strauss disclosed that heavy water would be available at a cut-rate for use in research reactors by Americans and by friendly nations having bilateral agreements with the United States for cooperation in the civil uses of atomic energy.

Strauss reported this in answer to a reporter's question while amplifying on an announcement made simultaneously in Washington and Geneva.

The announcement said the AEC had placed a value of $25 a gram on enriched uranium leased for research reactors and sale prices of $40 per 1,000 grams for normal uranium and $28 a pound for heavy water usable in such reactors.

Heavy water, the AEC said, is used as a moderator, or auxiliary to the fission process, and also as a coolant in certain types of reactors.

Doughty Tug Boat Skipper Dies In Fall

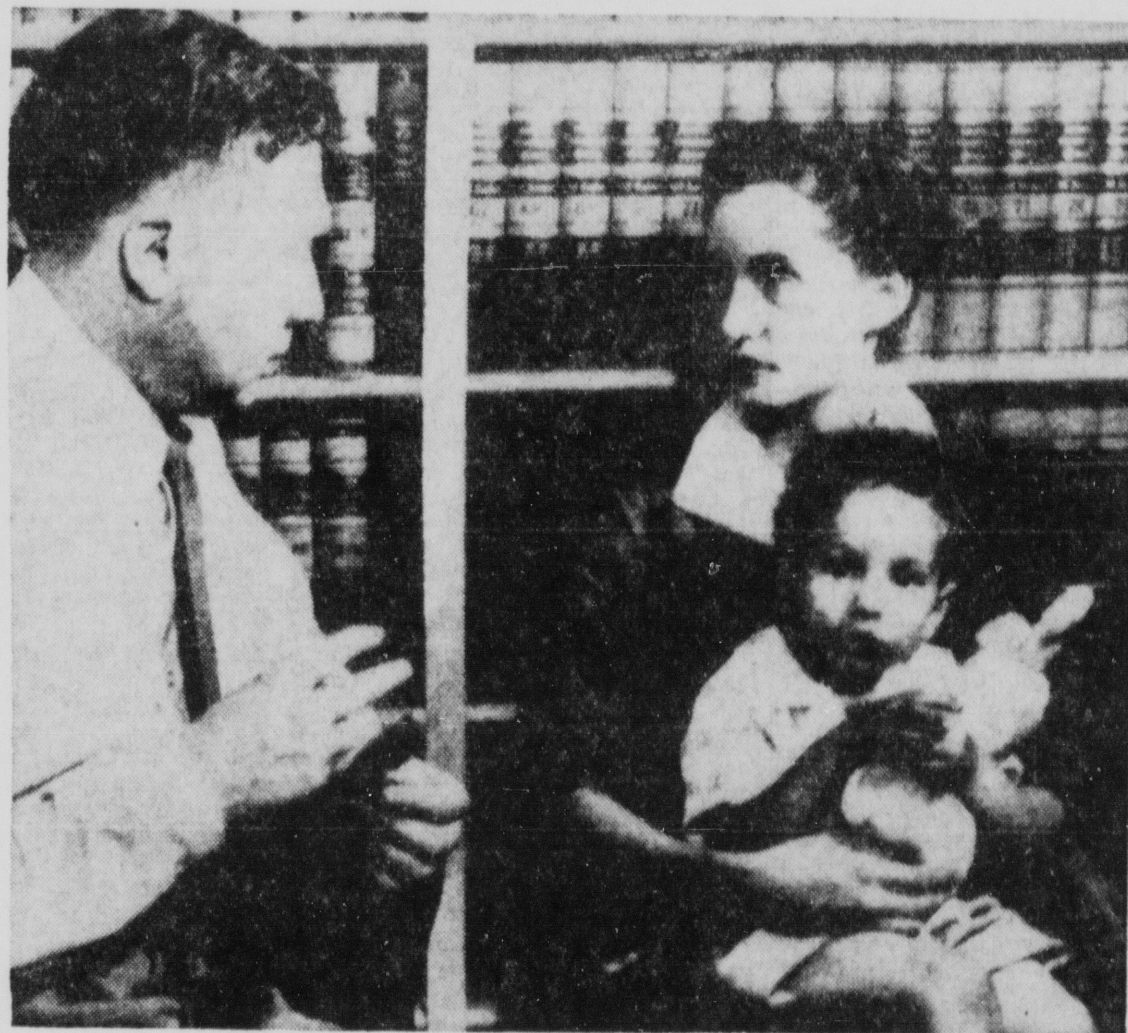

LONDON, Aug. 8 (P)—Capt. Dan Parker, skipper of the sturdy deep-sea tug Turmoil which tried to save the American freighter Flying Enterprise in 1952, was killed today in an accident on his tug.

The 63-year-old captain, who with his vessel had figured in many tense adventures at sea, fell from a ladder as he was climbing to the Turmoil's bridge.

Parker's name was associated in maritime lore with that of Capt. Kurt Carlsen of the Flying Enterprise who refused to leave his ship after the American freighter was wrecked in an Atlantic gale in January, 1952.

The airman, Daniel C. Schmidt, released recently by the Reds, is now in Tokyo on his way home. The separation of Una from the logger, Alford Fine, was announced after she talked by phone with Schmidt. She holds her son, Danny Schmidt. (AP Photo-fax)

FBI Joins Hunt For Socialite's Kidnap-Slayer

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 8 (P)—The mysterious disappearance and death of attractive 34-year-old Wilma Allen, wife of a wealthy Kansas City auto dealer, was labeled a kidnapping by the Federal Bureau of Investigation today as it joined the hunt for her slayer.

Whether the abduction and killing of the mother of two small boys was motivated by sex, robbery or ransom remained a major question.

The nude body of Mrs. Allen, her hands bound behind her back with her silken head scarf, was found yesterday in a pasture on a lonely country road in nearby Johnson County, Kansas. She had been shot twice through the head.

The condition of the body led police to theorize she was slain a short time after she vanished from a shopping district in South Kansas City about midday Thursday.

Her automobile, its back seat and floor soaked with blood, was found abandoned in a parking area near Union Station here early Friday morning. All of her clothing except the scarf, her stockings and handbag were stuffed into the car's trunk. Most of the clothing was deeply blood-stained.

The purse later was found along the highway leading from the spot where the body was discovered. The stockings, 50 yards apart, were found in an isolated spot about eight miles from the spot where her body had been abandoned.

Police leaned to the idea that a sex maniac kidnapped Mrs. Allen and shot her during a struggle. One man, his name undivulged, was questioned and held for a lie detector test. Homicide headquarters reported questioning of him was only a phase of the hunt.

Russia Urges U. S. Act To Free Sailors

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (P)—Russia urged the United States today to bring about the return of 20 crewmen of a Soviet tanker who gained asylum on Formosa, but the immediate U. S. reply was that it was a matter entirely up to Nationalist China.

Sergei Striganov, minister of the Soviet embassy, handed a memo to that effect to Under Secretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr., who made the prompt reply. It was the seventh exchange between the two countries since Nationalist Chinese warships captured the crewmen and their tanker, the Tuapse, on June 23, 1954, as it steamed toward Communist China.

Welfare Director Slain By Client, 91

YELLEVILLE, Ark., Aug. 8 (P)—The county welfare director was shot to death today by a 91-year-old welfare client, Sheriff Jack Pace reported.

Pace said J. K. Dudley admitted firing both barrels of a shotgun at Park Gaines, 47, as the welfare director approached Dudley's home.

The sheriff said Dudley was "under the impression" that Gaines had tricked him into signing away the house.

The sheriff said he didn't know whether there actually had been any transaction involving the house.

Freed Airmen On Their Own

TOKYO, Tuesday, Aug. 9 (P)—Eleven U. S. airmen were completely on their own yesterday for the first time after 32 months in the prisons of Communist China.

The 11, released last week at Hong Kong after what they said were months of physical and mental torture, are scheduled to leave tomorrow morning aboard two plush planes for Travis Air Force Base, Calif. From there they will be sped to bases nearest their homes.

"You're on your own," the 11 were told as their long physical examinations and Air Force questioning neared an end.

Col. John K. Arnold, Silver Springs, Md., commander of the B29 which was shot down during the Korean War, and seven other crewmen left the hospital for the gay, brightly lit city of Tachikawa, 25 miles from Tokyo.

Harriman Predicts GOP Defeat Even If Ike Runs

NEW YORK, Aug. 8 (P)—Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman said today the people are swinging away from the Republicans and will vote them out next year even if President Eisenhower heads the GOP ticket.

He conceded that Eisenhower is popular, but said this popularity could not stand the test of a campaign.

Harriman, frequently mentioned as a possible 1956 Democratic candidate for President, was asked in a radio interview on MBS Reporters' Roundup whether the Democrats can win next year.

He gave a one-word reply—"Yes"—and then expanded: "There has been an extraordinary swing away from the Republican Party, a disillusionment in the last two years."

Ex-POW Pointed Out As Sick GI's Torture Slayer

NEW YORK, Aug. 8 (P)—Sgt. James C. Gallagher was dramatically pointed out today as the torture slayer of a sick fellow American in a Red Chinese prisoner of war camp.

His accuser, Sgt. Q. C. Lloyd W. Pate, said he was fulfilling a wartime vow as he pointed a forefinger at the 23-year-old Brooklyn defendant and told a court-martial: "That's the man."

The unidentified murder victim was beaten, hung on a hook and finally cast into below zero weather to die March 7, 1951. He is one of three prisoners Gallagher is accused of slaying.

"I made a promise to that kid and myself," said Pate, 23, of Augusta, Ga., "that if God would permit me to come home alive, I would see that that man was paid for, I would see to it that that man who had killed would be brought to justice."

Besides the slayings, Gallagher is accused of collaborating with his Red Chinese captors during his imprisonment in North Korea. He faces a maximum of life at hard labor if convicted.

Pate testified he once overheard Gallagher advise a Chinese officer to get rid of him as a barrier to the camp's Communist indoctrination program.

"If I was in your place, I'd shoot him off," Pate quoted Gallagher as advising the enemy officer.

Pate conceded he did not witness the beating of the unnamed slaying victim.

Future Track Of Big Storm Is Uncertain

Weather Formation May Shove 'Connie' Toward Mainland

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 8 (P)—Hurricane Connie reached a critical stage today with weather formations developing that could steer the severe storm either toward the land or out to sea.

It was centered some 500 miles off Vero Beach, Fla., at 5 p.m., moving north northwest at 12 miles per hour. It still has its 135-mile per hour punch.

Hurricane winds extended out 100 miles to the north and east and 50 miles to the southwest from the center. Gales extend 350 miles to the north and east and 150 miles to the southwest of the center. Barometric pressure in the eye was remaining steady at 27.88.

Movement for the next 12 hours is expected to be toward the north northwest or north at about 10 to 12 miles an hour.

High Tides Forecast

Tides 2 or 3 feet above normal were predicted for the North and South Carolina coastlines and residents from Jacksonville north to Cape Hatteras were advised to keep in touch with the latest weather reports.

Its future track is still uncertain, storm forecasters said. Small boats were warned to stay close to port as far south as Jacksonville.

"This is a severe hurricane and ships should exercise the utmost caution," the advisory said.

Connie was heading toward a significant meeting with a low pressure trough in front of a high pressure area that may serve it east or west. Forecasters explained that if the trough moves fast enough, Connie would swing into its southern portion and a strong air flow from the southwest would carry it away from land.

Eye 38 Miles Wide

But if the trough moves slow and Connie advances north some 180 more miles, the storm may move into the northern side of the low pressure area where air flows from the east. This might shove it toward land.

The season's first big hurricane, which formed Aug. 3, was called the "biggest storm I've ever seen" by a Navy flier who piloted a plane into its center.

Lt. Comdr. R. T. Pittman, Covington, Ga., said the eye was 38 miles across and reported he encountered winds up to 120 knots.

Fugitive Spotted On TV, Arrested

NEW YORK, Aug. 8 (P)—A couple of eagle-eyed television fans 900 miles away caused the arrest here today by the FBI of a man on charges of car stealing.

James J. Kelly, special agent in charge of the New York FBI office, identified the prisoner as James Marshall Showers, 27, former worker for a lumber company in Royal Oak, Mich.

As Jimmy Mitchell, the 27-year-old man appeared last night on the "What's My Line?" show over the CBS video network. The panel of experts guessed Mitchell's current occupation—elephant handler—but he was awarded $50 for taking part in the show.

Kelly said that immediately after the program went off the air two separate calls were received at the Detroit FBI office from video fans in Royal Oak identifying Mitchell as the missing Showers.

Martin And Lewis Continue As Team

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 8 (P)—Comedians Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis met today and agreed to continue working together. Paramount Studio announced.

The studio didn't say their two-month feud was over. It did say the pair met at the office of Y. Frank Freeman, studio head, and "agreed to continue on as America's highest paid comedy team."

Chandler Wins Kentucky Race

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 8 (AP)—A. B. (Happy) Chandler, Kentucky's governor in 1935-39, today won the Democratic nomination for a second term in a political comeback.

Supporters of the former baseball commissioner and U. S. senator shouted:

"Happy days are here again."

Tabulation of returns from 3,055 of Kentucky's 4,074 precincts gave: Chandler 202,511; Bert T. Combs 186,612; Jesse N. R. Cecil 4,581.

Combs, a young mountaineer judge who has called himself "a stubborn man," doggedly refused to concede.

Former U. S. Dist. Atty. Edwin R. Denney, 51, also a mountain man, captured the Republican gubernatorial nomination in a quiet contest sharply contrasting with the stormy Chandler-Combs race.

TV Prices Upped

Jaunty Stowaway Faces Less Exciting Trip Home

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 8 (AP)—Federal authorities swung into action today to return to Hawaii a 16-year-old girl stowaway who threw her Majesty's Canadian Navy into a royal tizzy.

But jaunty Jocelyn Joan Pilapil, after arraignment before U. S. Commissioner Theodore Hocke, found she will have at least a week in the United States.

The commissioner ordered her held in Juvenile Hall under $500 bail pending a full hearing in federal court next Monday. The U. S. attorney's office and probation service said they will recommend that she be returned to her parents in Hilo.

Conference Told Nuclear Power Development Vital

Present Fuels Seen Exhausted In Next Century

GENEVA, Aug. 8 (AP)—The 72-nation atoms-for-peace conference opened today on the note that atomic heating and electrical power must be developed widely to cope with diminishing supplies of major conventional fuels.

YELLVILLE, Ark., Aug. 8 (AP)—The county welfare director was shot to death here today by a 91-year-old welfare client, Sheriff Jack Pace reported.

Pace said J. K. Dudley admitted firing both barrels of a shotgun at Park Gaines, 47, as the welfare director approached Dudley's home.

The sheriff said Dudley was "under the impression" that Gaines had tricked him into signing away the house.

The sheriff said he didn't know whether there actually had been any transaction involving the house.

Freed Airmen On Their Own

TOKYO, Tuesday, Aug. 9 (AP)—Eleven U. S. airmen were completely on their own yesterday for the first time after 32 months in the prisons of Communist China.

The 11, released last week at Hong Kong after what they said were months of physical and mental torture, are scheduled to leave tomorrow morning aboard two plush planes for Travis Air Force Base, Calif. From there they will be sped to bases nearest their homes.

"You're on your own," the 11 were told as their long physical examinations and Air Force questioning neared an end.

Col. John K. Arnold, Silver Springs, Md., commander of the B29 which was shot down during the Korean War, and seven other crewmen left the hospital for the gay, brightly lit city of Tachikawa, 25 miles from Tokyo.

Harriman Predicts GOP Defeat Even If Ike Runs

NEW YORK, Aug. 8 (AP)—Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman said today the people are swinging away from the Republicans and will vote them out next year even if President Eisenhower heads the GOP ticket.

He conceded that Eisenhower is popular, but said this popularity could not stand the test of a campaign.

Harriman, frequently mentioned as a possible 1956 Democratic candidate for President, was asked in a radio interview on MBS Reporters' Roundup whether the Democrats can win next year.

He gave a one-word reply—"yes"—and then expanded:

"There has been an extraordinary swing away from the Republican Party, a disillusionment in the last two years."

Ex-POW Pointed Out As Sick GI's Torture Slayer

NEW YORK, Aug. 8 (AP)—Sgt. James C. Gallagher was dramatically pointed out today as the torture slayer of a sick fellow American in a Red Chinese prisoner of war camp.

His accuser, Sgt. Q. C. Lloyd W. Pate, said he was fulfilling a wartime vow as he pointed a forefinger at the 23-year-old Brooklyn defendant and told a court-martial:

"That's the man."

The unidentified murder victim was beaten, hung on a hook and finally cast into below zero weather to die March 7, 1951. He is one of three prisoners Gallagher is accused of slaying.

"I made a promise to that kid and myself," said Pate, 23, of Augusta, Ga., "that if God would permit me to come home alive, I would see that that man was paid for, I would see to it that that man who had killed would be brought to justice."

Besides the slayings, Gallagher is accused of collaborating with his Red Chinese captors during his imprisonment in North Korea. He faces a maximum of life at hard labor if convicted.

Pate testified he once overheard Gallagher advise a Chinese officer to get rid of him as a barrier to the camp's Communist indoctrination program.

"If I was in your place, I'd shoot him off," Pate quoted Gallagher as advising the enemy officer.

Pate conceded he did not witness the beating of the unnamed slaying victim.

Martin And Lewis Continue As Team

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 8 (AP)—Comedians Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis met today and agreed to continue working together, Paramount Studio announced.

The studio didn't say their two-month feud was over. It did say the pair met at the office of Y. Frank Freeman, studio head, and "agreed to continue on as America's highest paid comedy team."

Today's Chuckle

The conceited bachelor was invited to a dinner party by a lady and did not attend. A few days later he saw her on the street, and said in his best manner:

"I believe you asked me to dine with you last week."

She looked at him thoughtfully. "Why yes, I believe I did," she said brightly, "and did you come?"

Future Track Of Big Storm Is Uncertain

Weather Formation May Shove 'Connie' Toward Mainland

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 8 (AP)—Hurricane Connie reached a critical stage today with weather formations developing that could steer the severe storm either toward the land or out to sea.

It was centered some 500 miles off Vero Beach, Fla., at 5 p. m., moving north northwest at 12 miles per hour. It still has its 135-mile per hour punch.

Hurricane winds extended out 100 miles to the north and east and 50 miles to the southwest from the center. Gales extend 350 miles to the north and east and 150 miles to the southwest of the center. Barometric pressure in the eye was remaining steady at 27.88.

Movement for the next 12 hours is expected to be toward the north northwest or north at about 10 to 12 miles an hour.

High Tides Forecast

Tides 2 or 3 feet above normal were predicted for the North and South Carolina coastlines and residents from Jacksonville north to Cape Hatteras were advised to keep in touch with the latest weather reports.

Its future track is still uncertain, storm forecasters said. Small boats were warned to stay close to port as far south as Jacksonville.

"This is a severe hurricane and ships should exercise the utmost caution," the advisory said.

Connie was heading toward a significant meeting with a low pressure trough in front of a high pressure area that may swerve it east or west. Forecasters explained that if the trough moves fast enough, Connie would swing into its southern portion and a strong air flow from the southwest would carry it away from land.

But if the trough moves slow and Connie advances north some 180 more miles, the storm may move into the northern side of the low pressure area where air flows from the east. This might shove it toward land.

The season's first big hurricane, which formed Aug. 3, was called the "biggest storm I've ever seen" by a Navy flier who piloted a plane into its center.

LL Comdr. R. T. Pittman, Covington, Ga., said the eye was 38 miles across and reported he encountered winds up to 120 knots.

Fugitive Spotted On TV, Arrested

NEW YORK, Aug. 8 (AP)—A couple of eagle-eyed television fans 900 miles away caused the arrest here today by the FBI of a man on charges of car stealing.

James J. Kelly, special agent in charge of the New York FBI office, identified the prisoner as James Marshall Showers, 27, former worker for a lumber company in Royal Oak, Mich.

As Jimmy Mitchell, the 27-year-old man appeared last night on the "What's My Line?" show over the CBS video network. The panel of experts guessed Mitchell's current occupation—elephant handler—but he was awarded $50 for taking part in the show.

Kelly said that immediately after the program went off the air two separate calls were received at the Detroit FBI office from video fans in Royal Oak identifying Mitchell as the missing Showers.

Knight, Ribicoff Label Harriman Demos' Best Bet

CHICAGO, Aug. 8 (AP)—A Republican and a Democratic governor listed Gov. Averell Harriman of New York today as in a strong strategic position to bid next year for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Gov. Goodwin Knight, California Republican, said he believes President Eisenhower will run again and win in 1956. But he said he thinks Harriman would give Eisenhower the strongest opposition of any Democrat because he has "demonstrated he is a vote getter in the biggest state in the union."

Ribicoff Booms Harriman

Gov. Abraham Ribicoff, Connecticut Democrat, said Harriman has a "wonderful springboard" for the party nomination as chief executive of the Empire State. On the basis of Harriman's statements on public issues and the actions of his political associates, Ribicoff added, "I would say that Harriman is a candidate."

The two governors from opposite sides of the country spoke up in news conferences as first governors began arriving here for their 47th annual conference.

Preliminaries get under way tomorrow, business sessions Wednesday, and politics officially is taboo. But politics is very much on the minds of the state executives, with the presidential and congressional elections on tap next year and three out of every five gubernatorial seats at stake, too.

Adlai 'Weak' In California

Here in the home state of Adlai Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, Knight predicted that if Stevenson repeats as a nominee he will lose California by as large a margin or a bigger one than three years ago.

With evident reference to the position of Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas, Knight said Stevenson "doesn't have the capacity to attract the southern bloc as Governor Harriman might."

Shivers, an Eisenhower Democrat in 1952, told reporters yesterday he will oppose renomination for Stevenson and won't support him if Stevenson gets the party nod.

Ribicoff said Stevenson "won't be drafted again. If he wants the nomination, he must come out and say so."

Johnson Hits Ike's "Partisan Analysis" Of Congress Record

Johnson, the Senate majority leader who is convalescing after a heart attack, talked to reporters at his Washington home.

He said congressmen of President Eisenhower's own party were far more responsible than Democrats for failure of three of four bills called "vital" by the President to pass in the first session of the 84th Congress.

The fourth—Eisenhower's health legislation—was decisively defeated in the previous Republican-controlled Congress and should be completely revised, Johnson said.

Johnson said the only valid "box score" of legislative achievements or failures should compare the first session of the Republican 83rd Congress with the last six months under Democratic leadership.

Such a comparison, he said, would show that "the voters knew what they were doing last November" when they restored the Democrats to control of both houses.

Johnson's discussion today was his first news conference since a moderately severe heart attack struck him down July 2. He returned home yesterday from the Bethesda Naval Hospital.

Mother Of Four Indicted In Death Of Mate's Friend

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (AP)—A federal grand jury today indicted a 28-year-old mother of four on a charge of first degree murder for the shooting of her husband's teenage girl friend.

Mrs. Katherine Haynes, acting as her own attorney although not a lawyer, had convinced a coroner's jury last month that Miss Nancy Penton, 19, was shot accidentally when the younger woman grappled with her.

The grand jury indictment, in reversing the coroner's jury, said Mrs. Haynes killed Miss Penton with "deliberate and premeditated malice." This is a usual term in such charges.

Mrs. Haynes also was indicted on a charge of carrying a pistol without a license. A charge of assault with a dangerous weapon was dismissed in Municipal Court last week after Mrs. Haynes's husband, Willis, refused to testify against her.

In the coroner's inquest, Haynes, a balding 32-year-old vacuum cleaner salesman, testified that as he left Nancy's apartment shortly after midnight July 19, his wife met him outside, marched him back at gunpoint and forced him to stand by as she shot the girl.

Mrs. Haynes, a postal clerk, acknowledged that she forced her husband to accompany her to the apartment. When she got there, she said, Miss Penton cursed and lunged at her. She said she grabbed the girl's pajamas and the pistol went off accidentally when Miss Penton's hand struck it.

Motorist Held After Two Women Killed

BALTIMORE, Aug. 8 (AP)—Manslaughter and drunken driving charges were filed against a 33-year-old motorist today in the death of two elderly women who were struck down while alighting from a streetcar.

The driver was booked as John W. Hunt of adjoining Catonsville, Md. He also was charged with reckless driving and speeding.

At his arraignment before Magistrate Meyer Cardin in Central Police District court, Hunt was ordered held in $5,000.

Victims of the accident were identified as Mildred Elliss, 65, and Sarah Pruitt, 60, both of Baltimore.

Dog Is 'Mugged' In Rogues' Gallery

NEW YORK, Aug. 8 (AP)—A friendly fox terrier named "Baby" was mugged today by police in rogues' gallery. It was the first time anyone could recall having photographed an animal to help identify a suspected criminal.

The dog was picked up along with a man, arrested on a morals charge.

Police said seven complaints had been received recently of children being molested by a man who had a small black and white dog with him. The photo of "Baby" and the man will be distributed throughout the city to see if youngsters can identify the man.

Germany Clears Way For Talks

BONN, Germany, Aug. 8 (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's top foreign advisers cleared the way tonight for direct German-Russian discussions on his forthcoming trip to Moscow.

In a day-long secret conference, Foreign Office officials headed by Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano drafted a note outlining the Bonn government's views of what Adenauer and the Kremlin's leaders should discuss.

Von Brentano and Deputy Foreign Minister Walter Hallstein will put the final touches on the note tomorrow at the Chancellor's vacation residence at Muerren, Switzerland.

And then Voltrath von Maltzan, West German ambassador to France, will meet later this week in Paris with the Soviet ambassador to France, Sergei Vinogradov, to discuss the German proposals.

The details were not disclosed. One Foreign Office official said: "The Russians have told us what they want to discuss and now we have to tell them what we want to discuss."

Russia Will Pay

MOSCOW, Aug. 8 (AP)—Russia agreed today to pay indemnities for the deaths of 10 Norwegian women among 25 persons killed in a fiery plane crash in the Voronezh area Saturday.

The Norwegian women were guests of the Soviet Anti-Fascist Committee, traveling from Stalin-grad to Moscow. The other 15 victims were Russians, including three members of the Soviet committee escorting the Norwegians.

Sergeant Held For Grand Jury In Gun Scuffle

UPPER MARLBORO, Md., Aug. 8 (AP)—A 25-year-old Air Force sergeant was held for grand jury action today on charges of assault, with intent to kill, his wife and three policemen.

Following arraignment before Trial Magistrate Nita A. Hinman Crane, Sgt. Keith Becker was turned over to Air Force authorities. They said he will be held at Bolling Field for an investigation to determine whether a court martial is advisable.

Beverly Post Becker, the sergeant's 21-year-old wife who is awaiting final divorce papers, said her husband came to their apartment Saturday night, waved a gun and told her, "Beverly, I've come to kill you."

She said she talked loud to attract the attention of neighbors who called police.

Becker fired one shot through a window at Pvt. William S. Welsh of Prince Georges County Police, Lt. Boyd Hamilton said. Later Pvt. Robert M. Zidek entered the apartment and tried to reason with Becker.

Mrs. Becker said her husband threatened Zidek with the gun. Zidek withdrew and Marine Sgt. Charles Ellis of the Armed Services Police entered the apartment.

The Marine said he tried for 20 minutes to persuade Becker to surrender his weapon.

Finally, he said, Becker turned to his wife and placed the gun to her head. Ellis dove at the airman, knocking him down. The other officers rushed in and helped overpower Becker.

Suzan To Be Buried In Wedding Dress

GLENDAL, Calif., Aug. 8 (AP)—Suzan Ball will be buried tomorrow in her wedding dress.

The young actress who succumbed to cancer last Friday will wear the dress she had on when she and Richard Long walked down the aisle in April, 1954.

The organist who played for their wedding, Bert Barton, will provide music as her body lies in state from 9 a.m. to noon in Forest Lawn's Church of the Reformation.

Cashier's Window Leap Thwarts Holdup Of Bank

FRUITLAND, Md., Aug. 8 (AP)—A cashier outwitted a man trying to hold up the Bank of Fruitland today by leaping from a rear window and running for help. The would-be bandit fled empty-handed.

State police threw up roadblocks around this community on Maryland's lower Eastern Shore moments later.

Carl P. Bennett, the cashier, said the holdup was attempted by a lone Negro who entered the bank at 9:40 a.m. He carried a package resembling a shotgun wrapped in paper.

Bennett said the man approached the tellers' cage and shoved a note across the counter to Mrs. Stella Payne.

"This is a holdup," said the note. "I have a gun. If you will cooperate no one will get hurt. If you don't, you will all die."

Mrs. Payne went to the rear of the bank and handed the message to Bennett.

Low-Flying Blimps Rouse Baltimoreans

BALTIMORE, Aug. 8 (AP)—Residents of northeast Baltimore said three blimps flew low enough over their homes today to rattle windows and rouse them from bed.

The Navy said three blimps were being evacuated from the Naval Air Facility at Weeksville, N. C. to Akron, O., to get them out of the possible path of hurricane "Connie."

Navy and Civil Aeronautics Administration officials said the blimps may have been lost.

The blimps were reported to have passed over northeast Baltimore between 5 and 5:45 a.m. with a "deafening noise."

U. S. S. Constellation Returns Home Today

BALTIMORE, Aug. 8 (AP)—The old sailing warship U.S.S. Constellation, launched in Baltimore in 1797, arrives home tomorrow to conclude her final voyage.

She'll be permanently berthed at Ft. McHenry as a national shrine. The historic ship, which in her day battled and beat the big boys of the French fleet, is coming home aboard a floating drydock.

The tug, Nipmuc, with the drydock in tow, arrived off Cape Henry, Va., this morning and took aboard a pilot for the trip up Chesapeake Bay.

Johnson's discussion today was his first news conference since a moderately severe heart attack struck him yesterday from the Bethesda Naval Hospital.

Looking somewhat thinner—his waistline is down from size 42 to size 37—the Texas Democrat was in excellent spirits, relaxed in a reclining armchair in his bedroom. The interview lasted two hours.

Johnson said his doctor has advised him he should be "as good as new" when the second session of the 84th Congress convenes next January. Barring unforeseen developments, Johnson said he would be back at the helm Jan. 3.

He will take care, he said, to pace himself, work regular hours, eat regular meals and accept more aid from his colleagues in running the Senate.

Germany Faces Labor Shortage

BONN, Germany, Aug. 8 (AP)—West Germany's high-powered economic boom is colliding head-on with an acute labor shortage.

Just as the nation prepares to put men under arms in a new army, the reserves of labor for its expanding industries have been practically exhausted. Full employment exists in the two main industrial states of North Rhine-Westphalia—home of the Ruhr—and Baden-Wuerttemberg.

Julius Scheubel, president of the Federal Employment Office, says "German labor market conditions will almost unavoidably resemble those in Britain within a very short time."

Employment has soared to an all-time high of more than 17 million persons or a million more than a year ago. Unemployment has dropped to the lowest point since the drastic currency reform in 1948.

The number of registered jobless now stands at 566,000, compared with 934,000 a year ago. But only 272,000 of the unemployed are men and many of them are not fully employable. Within the last month the number of jobless dropped by 83,000.

Argentine President Says Nation Living In "Political Truce"

ROME, Italy, Aug. 8 (AP)—President Juan D. Peron was quoted today as saying that Argentina "is living in a political truce," but that this must not be misunderstood as a screen for the protection of rumor mongers.

This statement was attributed to Peron in the Italian weekly magazine Tempo which carried a four-page report of an interview granted its correspondent in Buenos Aires.

Luigi Romera, the Italian correspondent, said it was the first interview granted by Peron since his government put down a rebellion June 16.

Asked to describe the "exact political picture of the moment," Peron replied, according to Tempo:

"The nation is living in a political truce which the majority movement has offered its adversaries, and which the entire population has tacitly accepted. The objective is to pacify the spirits, to stabilize bases for living together under the constitution, and to attain new systems of political action for all parties constituting the democratic forces of Argentina."

He said the truce "must bring us to internal peace, to true conciliation."

But Peron warned that it "must not be understood, however, as a screen behind which poisonous gossip is ground out."

The details were not disclosed. One Foreign Office official said: "The Russians have told us what they want to discuss and now we have to tell them what we want to discuss."

Russia Will Pay

MOSCOW, Aug. 8 (AP)—Russia agreed today to pay indemnities for the deaths of 10 Norwegian women among 25 persons killed in a fiery plane crash in the Voronezh area Saturday.

The Norwegian women were guests of the Soviet Anti-Fascist Committee, traveling from Stalin grad to Moscow. The other 15 victims were Russians, including three members of the Soviet committee escorting the Norwegians.

Sergeant Held For Grand Jury In Gun Scuffle

UPPER MARLBORO, Md., Aug. 8 (AP)—A 25-year-old Air Force sergeant was held for grand jury action today on charges of assaulting, with intent to kill, his wife and three policemen.

Following arraignment before Trial Magistrate Nita A. Hinman Crane, Sgt. Keith Becker was turned over to Air Force authorities. They said he will be held at Bolling Field for an investigation to determine whether a court martial is advisable.

Beverly Post Becker, the sergeant's 21-year-old wife who is awaiting final divorce papers, said her husband came to their apartment Saturday night, waved a gun and told her, "Beverly, I've come to kill you."

She said she talked loud to attract the attention of neighbors who called police.

Becker fired one shot through a window at Pvt. William S. Welsh of Prince Georges County Police, Lt. Boyd Hamilton said. Later Pvt. Robert M. Zidek entered the apartment and tried to reason with Becker.

Mrs. Becker said her husband threatened Zidek with the gun. Zidek withdrew and Marine Sgt. Charles Ellis of the Armed Services Police entered the apartment.

The Marine said he tried for 20 minutes to persuade Becker to surrender his weapon.

Finally, he said, Becker turned to his wife and placed the gun to her head. Ellis dove at the airman, knocking him down. The other officers rushed in and helped overpower Becker.

Suzan To Be Buried In Wedding Dress

GLENDAL, Calif., Aug. 8 (AP)—Suzan Ball will be buried tomorrow in her wedding dress.

The young actress who succumbed to cancer last Friday will wear the dress she had on when she and Richard Long walked down the aisle in April, 1954.

The organist who played for their wedding, Bert Barton, will provide music as her body lies in state from 9 a.m. to noon in Forest Lawn's Church of the Reformation.

Cashier's Window Leap Thwarts Holdup Of Bank

FRUITLAND, Md., Aug. 8 (AP)—A cashier outwitted a man trying to hold up the Bank of Fruitland today by leaping from a rear window and running for help. The would-be bandit fled empty-handed.

State police threw up roadblocks around this community on Maryland's lower Eastern Shore moments later.

Carl P. Bennett, the cashier, said the holdup was attempted by a lone Negro who entered the bank at 9:40 a.m. He carried a package resembling a shotgun wrapped in paper.

Bennett said the man approached the tellers' cage and shoved a note across the counter to Mrs. Stella Payne.

"This is a holdup," said the note. "I have a gun. If you will cooperate no one will get hurt. If you don't, you will all die."

Mrs. Payne went to the rear of the bank and handed the message to Bennett.

Low-Flying Blimps Rouse Baltimoreans

BALTIMORE, Aug. 8 (AP)—Residents of northeast Baltimore said three blimps flew low enough over their homes today to rattle windows and rouse them from bed.

The Navy said three blimps were being evacuated from the Naval Air Facility at Weeksville, N. C. to Akron, O., to get them out of the possible path of hurricane "Connie."

Navy and Civil Aeronautics Administration officials said the airships may have been lost.

The blimps were reported to have passed over northeast Baltimore between 5 and 5:45 a.m. with a "deafening noise."

U. S. S. Constellation Returns Home Today

BALTIMORE, Aug. 8 (AP)—The old sailing warship U.S.S. Constellation, launched in Baltimore in 1797, arrives home tomorrow to conclude her final voyage.

She'll be permanently berthed at Ft. McHenry as a national shrine. The historic ship, which in her day battled and beat the big boys of the French fleet, is coming home aboard a floating drydock.

The tug, Nipmuc, with the drydock in tow, arrived off Cape Henry, Va., this morning and took aboard a pilot for the trip up Chesapeake Bay.

Council Studies Plans For New Market St. Span

The city aired plans for the new bridge plans, were approved and requested the city to take necessary steps to have the old bridge torn down and abutments and walls for the new bridge in place by July 1, 1956.

In a letter to council, Nuzum pointed out Sections 2 and 3 of the Wills Creek Channel Improvement of the flood control project would be under way by October 1. In construction schedule based on the included in Section 3, he said, is the recommended construction by July 1, proposed that bids be advertised December 15 of this year.

Recommendations of City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum and the J. E. Greiner Company, Baltimore consulting engineers who prepared the and opened about January 30, 1956. This would give the contractor time to raze the old structure and to have abutments and walls in place by July 1.

These recommendations are made in an effort to keep to a minimum the time the bridge is out of service. If followed, the bridge would be out of service from February 15 until September 15, 1956, the letter said.

Nuzum estimated cost of the Market bridge at $233,500.

On other matters, Mrs. Isaac Whisner appeared before council to ask what was being done to correct flooding conditions in the 1200 block of Virginia Avenue during heavy rains. Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz said crews are in that section this week and should attend to the problem by the first of next week by the latest.

Filed was a letter from the Maryland Moose Association which noted a resolution of appreciation for the cooperation shown by the city during its recent convention here.

Council approved a license application for the Brooks Hotel, 202 Baltimore Avenue. Jack B. Shanholzer, proprietor. The vote was 4-1 with Commissioner John J. Long dissenting because of the reports of the police and fire chief which were attached to the application.

Council was invited to attend ceremonies Saturday, August 20, at 4:30 p. m. in Constitution Park when Rosenbaum's will deposit a time capsule in connection with the Bicentennial observance.

Keyser Resident, Son Stunned By Lightning

KEYSER—A Keyser man and his son escaped injury Saturday when a lightning bolt struck near them as they were working in a barn.

James Dixon, clerk of Mineral County Circuit Court, and his son were cutting a window in a barn on property at Sulphur during the course of a severe lightning storm. Both the father and son were working inside the building when a bolt of lightning struck the metal roof of the structure and then traveled to the window where they were working.

Both men were stunned by the bolt, and both suffered temporary paralysis of the arms and legs. The elder Dixon said he also was unable to talk for several minutes and suffered a loss of memory for a short time.

Dixon, who described the experience as "like a blow on the head," said his head remained a little tender yesterday.

Two Drown In Cacapon River Mishap

A father who went to the rescue of his daughter and niece Sunday afternoon in the Cacapon River several miles upstream from Capon Bridge drowned in the attempt and the daughter also was claimed by the river.

Sgt. Robert Schnell of the West Virginia State Police at Romney, said Jasper W. Elder, 53, of 807 Maryland Avenue, Fairmont, W. Va., and Kathryn Elder, his 16-year-old daughter, were swept to their death by the swift current of the river.

Before he drowned, Elder was able to push his niece, Janet Sue Rexrode, 11, of Burlington, W. Va., to safety. The two girls were wading in the stream when they got beyond the shallow section. Both screamed for help and Elder and his wife, Mildred, ran to their aid.

Jasper Elder was able to push the Rexrode child to shallow waters where his wife grabbed her. Meanwhile, the strong current swept both Elder and his daughter Kathryn to deep water and they were drowned.

Mrs. Elder drove three or four miles to the little community of Cold Stream for aid. The body of her husband and daughter were recovered by Paul Shanholzer, and Mr. and Mrs. Erhart Lange, of Cold Stream, and Benjamin Hayes Jr., of Rivesville. Erhart Lange is a German refugee who married a Cold Stream woman some time ago.

The Capon Bridge and Romney volunteer fire companies were also called. They and Dr. Leslie R. Miles Jr., of Capon Bridge attempted artificial respiration. The man and girl were in the water for an hour and a half and could not be revived.

Jasper Elder was a Post Office supervisor at Fairmont. The bodies of the victims were taken to the Giffin Funeral Home at Capon Bridge.

Lakes Below Spillway

Lake Gordon is one foot one inch below the crest of the spillway and Lake Koon two feet five inches below, a report submitted to the Mayor and Council by C. L. Brotemarkle, assistant superintendent of Evitts Creek Water Company, indicates. Water consumption for the week ending Sunday was 89,730,000 gallons compared to 100,450,000 the same period last year.

Cadillac

Figures He's Waited Long Enough!

The long-striding, fast-moving man you see in this picture has made the right decision at the right time!

For the past year or so, he has been thinking about a Cadillac—and he has finally made up his mind.

He is through with compromise and doubt and wonder. This time, he is going after the real thing!

And how lucky he is that he made that decision today! For wonderful news of a special nature is waiting for him.

He'll find, for instance, that Cadillac ownership is far more practical now than ever before. He'll learn, in fact, that the lowest-priced Cadillac can be purchased for little more than he might expect to pay for a goodly number of the so-called medium-price cars.

He'll also find that his dealer—because of a low used-car inventory—is in a position to offer him a very generous allowance on his present car.

And he'll discover that, because of Cadillac's greatly increased production during the current year, he can take title to his new Cadillac after a surprisingly short waiting period.

And all these special inducements, of course, are in addition to the other great Cadillac virtues—such as legendary dependability and long life... remarkable economy of upkeep and operation... and traditionally higher resale value.

All in all, he's walking in on the motor car opportunity of a lifetime!

And how about you? Have you been postponing your dreams of a Cadillac?

If so, there's no reason to wait any longer. Come on in and see us. Let us put you behind the wheel of a Cadillac... and give you the whole, wonderful story of the "car of cars." We think you, too, will decide that you've waited long enough!

Jayne C. Garey Becomes Bride Of William A. Casteel

Miss Jayne Carroll Garey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Buchanan Garey, 313 Hopkins Road, Baltimore, became the bride of William Ashby Casteel, son of Mrs. Everett Casteel, Oakland, and the late Mr. Casteel, August 6.

The wedding ceremony was solemnized in St. Paul's Methodist Church, Oakland, with Rev. Winfred Patterson, D. D., officiating. Vases of white gladioli and snapdragons decorated the altar against a background of palms in the chancel.

Miss Barbara Ann Garey was her sister's maid of honor and only attendant, while Charles Jaacks served as Mr. Casteel's best man, and Howard Winkemeier, Edward F. Smouse, Dr. E. Irving Baumgartner and Frank Sheehan were the ushers. Mrs. Jay Bell sang the "Lord's Prayer." "I Love You Truly," and "Because."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a waltz length gown of white nylon tulle and Chantilly lace. Her fingertip length veil of matching lace, was held by a tiara of seed pearls, and completing her costume, she carried a Bible with white orchid marker and white streamers, tied in lovers knots.

Her attendant wore a waltz length chiffon gown of pale lavender combined with a slightly deeper shade. Her headress was a matching band of tiny leaves and veiling and she carried a nosegay

J., and a manager of Western Division Homemaker's Products Corp., New York, Mr. Casteel is at present manager of the Mason J. Giffelty Garage, Oakland.

A wedding reception was held in the church social room, following the ceremony. Summer flowers were used in the decorations and members of the Tri Mix Sunday School Class of the church assisted in serving refreshments. A miniature bride and bridegroom adorned the tiered wedding cake.

For traveling the bride wore a white, grey and black cord suit with white pique hat, white gloves and slippers. Upon their return from a two weeks motor trip Mr. and Mrs. Casteel will reside at 117 Second Street, Oakland.

AAUW Tea To Be Sept. 11 In Historical Headquarters

A varied schedule consisting of social and study activities and a change in regular meeting dates culminated from discussion of the Cumberland Branch, American Association of University Women, board of directors at the meeting Saturday, held at Hafer's Restaurant, Baltimore Avenue. Mrs. William C. Van Newkirk presided.

Mrs. A. W. Resser, Social Chairman, reported on plans for a tea honoring new and reinstated members. It is to be held September 11 in the Allegany County Historical Society home, 218 Washington Street. It was decided that officers of the club will act as official hostesses at the tea, which is to be held from 3 until 5 o'clock. Mrs. Rudolph Steinberger and members of the Garden group have charge of decorations.

A second social activity will be the annual anniversary dinner. It will be held in October at the Cumberland Country Club. Mrs. John Hafer is chairman of arrangements.

Other meetings, which were planned, include the general business session at the First Federal Savings and Loan Company social room in November, and the club's annual Christmas party in December.

A tentative outline for the year was outlined. January will feature an open meeting of the board of directors, with the February program being planned by the Great Books Study group. Both are scheduled to be held at the First Federal Savings and Loan Company. An out of town guest speaker has been secured for March. A dinner is scheduled in April with the International Relations group planning the program. A general meeting in May and social activity in June complete the year's schedule of regular meetings.

The regular meeting date was changed from the first Wednesday to the second Wednesday, in order to ease the conflict with other civic groups.

Beginning in September, study groups will be meeting. They include Gardening with Mrs. Steinberger chairman; Great Books, Mrs. John A. Cupler, II; International Relations, Mrs. William H. Blake, and Creative Writing, Mrs. Nora Troxell.

There was a discussion of the possibility of forming study groups in finance and dramatic reading.

Mrs. Van Newkirk reported she attended a meeting of the state board of directors of AAUW in July when plans were made for workshops for officers and committee chairmen. The workshops are to be held in Frederick in mid-September. The different

Social To Be Held Friday

An old fashioned social was planned and it was decided to purchase folding tables for the church Sunday school room, at the meeting of Fairview Avenue WSCS. Mrs. Lola Stewart presided at the business session of the August meeting held in the form of a family picnic, in Constitution Park.

The social will be held August 12 at 6 p. m., in front of the church. The committee consists of Mrs. Charles Bauer, Mrs. Vincent Thompson, Mrs. Dewey Zimmerman and Mrs. Robert Webster. Mrs. Stewart is to see about purchasing the tables.

Following the supper Mrs. B. F. Hartman led devotionals. Her topic was "What the Emblem of the WSCS Stands For." Mrs. Bauer gave the aims of the society. "This Is My Father's World," "My Lord, How Full of Sweet Content," and "A Charge to Keep I Have," were sung by the group. Mrs. Florence Brant offered prayer.

Others present were Rev. B. F. Hartman, Mrs. Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, John Thompson, Vincent Thompson, Jr., Charles Bauer, Bonnie Bauer, Mr. and Mrs. Webster and Robert Webster, Jr.

The next meeting will be September 7 in Constitution Park, and will be preceded by a covered dish supper.

Beverly Jane Smith Is Honored At Shower Party

Jayne C. Garey Becomes Bride Of William A. Casteel

Miss Jayne Carroll Garey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Buchanan Garey, 313 Hopkins Road, Baltimore, became the bride of William Ashby Casteel, son of Mrs. Everett Casteel, Oakland, and the late Mr. Casteel, August 6.

The wedding ceremony was solemnized in St. Paul's Methodist Church, Oakland, with Rev. Winfred Patterson, D. D., officiating. Vases of white gladioli and snapdragons decorated the altar against a background of palms in the chancel.

Miss Barbara Ann Garey was her sister's maid of honor and only attendant, while Charles Jaecks served as Mr. Casteel's best man, and Howard Winkemeier, Edward F. Smouse, Dr. E. Irving Baumgartner and Frank Sheehan were the ushers. Mrs. Jay Bell sang the "Lord's Prayer." "I Love You Truly," and "Because."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a waltz length gown of white nylon tulle and Chantilly lace. Her fingertip length veil of matching lace, was held by a tiara of seed pearls, and completing her costume, she carried a Bible with white orchid marker and white streamers, tied in lovers knots.

Her attendant wore a waltz length chiffon gown of pale lavender combined with a slightly deeper shade. Her headdress was a matching band of tiny leaves and veiling and she carried a nosegay of yellow and white sweetheart roses with small lavender asters.

Mrs. Garey chose a mauve pink, cotton lace gown, with matching hat and slippers, white gloves and purse for her daughter's wedding with it she had a corsage of talisman and white sweetheart roses. Mrs. Casteel selected a toast colored crepe, street length dress with white accessories for the wedding. She also had a corsage of talisman and white sweetheart roses.

The bride is a graduate of Towson High School, and the School of Nursing of The Hospital for the Women of Maryland, Baltimore. Until her recent resignation, she was a member of the staff of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland. She is a member of the Junior Woman's Civic Club, Oakland.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Oakland High School and the University of Maryland College of Business and Public Administration. He served in the Pacific Theater of Operations with the Army Air Force, receiving the D. F. C. and Air Medal. He is a member of the Oakland Rotary Club, Knights of Pythias, American Legion, and Oakland Country Club. A former associate director of the Community Research Bureau, Ridgewood, N. J., and a manager of Western Division Homemaker's Products Corp., New York, Mr. Casteel is at present manager of the Mason J. Glatfelter Garage, Oakland.

A wedding reception was held in the church social room, following the ceremony. Summer flowers were used in the decorations and members of the Tri Mix Sunday School Class of the church assisted in serving refreshments. A miniature bride and bridegroom adorned the tiered wedding cake.

For traveling the bride wore a white, grey and black cord suit with white pique hat, white gloves and slippers. Upon their return from a two weeks motor trip Mr. and Mrs. Casteel will reside at 117 Second Street, Oakland.

Red Hot Boston Red Sox Open Series In New York Tonight

Yanks Groggy Since July 4 Double Defeat

Cleveland To Battle Detroit, White Sox Visit Kansas City

NEW YORK, Aug. 8 (AP)—Still groggy after their troubles with the western teams of the American League, the New York Yankees tomorrow night face the red hot Boston Red Sox who started their downfall.

Last time Boston came to town, the Yanks coddled a cozy 6½ game lead. They were pulling away from the field and talking of out-doing Brooklyn.

The Red Sox brought the Yanks down to earth with a thump by sweeping a July 4 doubleheader, and the Yanks have not been the same since. Little by little, their lead shrunk until it disappeared completely and Chicago took over. Although the Yanks managed to regain the top for a day or so, they never again took command.

Going into the big three-game series with the Pittsburgh Pirates, the Yanks trail league-leading Chicago by three percentage points. The White Sox get a chance to fatten up on a Kansas City team that has been unusually rugged in recent days, while third-place Cleveland meets fifth-place Detroit.

The Yanks limp into the Red Sox series with a dull record of losing 22 of their last 34 games. Boston has put every Fenway Park fan in a pennant mood by winning 43 of their last 59 starts.

Casey Stengel, the Yankee manager, said it seemed "every day we're battling somebody new for first place."

"I wouldn't be surprised if the Red Sox series turned out to be the toughest of them all," he added.

Hygienic Beats Johnsons, 10-5

McGee's	9	18

Hygienic Sanitation upset first place Johnson's Grocery in a City Softball League game yesterday at Campobello by the score of 10-5.

Joe Niland went the distance for the winners and kept seven hits well spaced. Wayne Lewis, who started on the rubber for the league leaders, was charged with the loss.

Don Palmer of Hygienic and Dan of Johnson's garnered two hits each. Bobby Christ starred for the winners with several nice catches in centerfield.

Schute's Roofers spilled Kelly Retail Store at East Side Field by the score of 10-3 and remained four games behind the leaders.

"Sonny" Method garnered three hits, Jack Martin pounded a triple and single and turned in two sparkling one-handed catches in left field and Meade and Perrell had two safeties each. Jack Mayo hit safely twice, Harry Widows lapped a triple and Crabtree belted a two-run homer for Kelly. Joe Biggs went the route for the victors.

McGee's Restaurant edged the Old Germans at Stitzer Field by the score of 4-3. The winners occupy the league cellar but they are now only two games out of fourth place.

Louie Arnone hit for the circuit and George Harris, winning pitcher, smacked a double for McGee's. Paul McGregor obtained a double and single and Bob Mattingly had a two-bagger for the Old G's. Scores:

Rotary And Moose Score At Oakland

OAKLAND, Md., Aug. 8—The Rotary Club swamped the Woodmen, 18-3, and the Moose won over the Country Club, 9-3, in Oakland Pony League games today.

Duling, James, S. Temple and Sanders shared eight of the Rotary team's 10 hits. Dewitt smacked a double and single to pace the Woodmen. Darkness halted the game at the end of the fifth inning.

Kelley headed the 13-hit assault unleashed by the Moose with a double and three singles to his credit. Martin hit safely three and Callis, Wine and Colaw collected two hits each. Shaffer had two hits and Bill Paugh blasted a triple for the Country Club. Scores:

Fort Hill Wins In Rifle Series

Beats Mountain Top, Simpson Sets Pace

WESTERN MD. RIFLE LEAGUE	W	L
Fort Hill	3	0
Mountain Top	2	1
LaVale	0	3

Fort Hill swept the special position match series by downing Mountain Top, 1420-19x to 1407-21x, in the Western Maryland League's ninth smallest event fired Sunday at the Frostburg range. The three international-type position contests featured 100 yard shooting in the kneeling and standing positions and were initiated this summer on an experimental basis by league officials.

Frank Simpson's 376-10x score was a big factor in Fort Hill's win over previously undefeated Mountain Top, and was high tally for the meet. Mountain Top's George Porter turned in 358-3x as the losers' top mark.

Hercules trounced a short-handed LaVale team, 1399-22x to 995-7x, also at Frostburg. Jim Spitznogle's 373-4x topped the winners. LaVale's best was 342-1x by Leo Ford.

Next Sunday the regular series of prone position matches will be resumed with the firing of Match No. 10 at the Frostburg and Oakland ranges. This contest will be the familiar Dewar Course, 20 shots at 50 yards and 20 shots at 100 yards, with telescopic sights.

McQuinn Quits Game, Sells Sports Goods

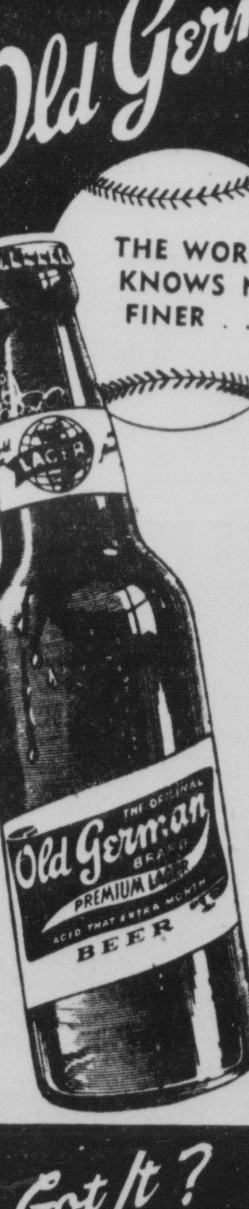

George McQuinn is back at his sporting goods business in Alexandria, Va., a prime example that the days of a manager in baseball—whether a big league or minor stuff—are numbered.

McQuinn made his debut as pilot of the Atlanta Crackers this season. He was the Crackers' 25th manager, a publicity blurb said. If it makes any difference, the Crackers now are playing for their 27th manager.

McQuinn, who failed to set the defending Southern association champs going in the right direction this season, quit recently. Marv Rackley took over as temporary manager for seven days and then Clyde King, a veteran of the Brooklyn organization, took over for the balance of the season.

Golf Pros Eye $50,000 Prize In Tam Tourney

Chicago Gold Rush To Start Thursday

CHICAGO, Aug. 8 (AP)—Golf's big-shot pros today began hatching get-rich-quick schemes as they sharpened up for the game's biggest payoff in the "World" championship at Tam O'Shanter.

In one 72-hole swoop, the "World" winner can blossom into a wealthy man with security that seldom comes to the pros who yearly try to make ends meet on the long, gruelling tournament circuit.

Winner Gets $50,000
The championship is worth $50,000 in cash, a guaranteed expense paid schedule of 55 exhibitions at $1,000 each, and an option to play 50 more.

Second place value is a $10,000 check. The prize list scales down to $100 through 72nd.

The field starting the gold rush Thursday will consist of approximately 107 men pros, including all of the big winners of the season plus a foreign contingent headed by such international stars as British Open Champion Peter Thomson and Roberto Devicenzo, the South American who now registers from Mexico City.

Seeks Double Win

Doug Ford, hottest U.S. pro of the last month, will try to become the first double winner at Tam since 1948 when Lloyd Mangrum won the All-American as well as the "World". His double triumph was worth a total of $15,000, peanuts compared to the current jackpot.

Ford, newly-crowned national PGA champion, won the All-American title yesterday with 277-11 under par. He had a 3-stroke edge over Leo Biagetti of Willoughby, Ohio, and 7 strokes over Ted Kroll. Tony Holguin, Jimmy Demaret and Freddie Haas—all of whom shared third.

"Bo" Makes Team

Bo Winington won an 18-hole playoff round today for the last spot on the U. S. international team. Winington fired a 5-under-par 67 to beat out Gardner Dickenson Jr. with a 69 and Shelley Mayfield who had a 71.

Sam Snead was also to have played today but Snead passed up the chance, saying he had previous commitments. All four were tied for 11th place in the All American with 286.

What Price Glory?

Atlanta, 1954 pennant winner in the Southern Association, and Indianapolis, which ran away with the American Association flag last year, both are in 7th place this season.

Akins Scores Over Logart

Virgil Given Split Verdict At St. Nick

NEW YORK, Aug. 8 (AP)—Virgil Akins, always pressing the attack, won a roundly booed split decision over clever Isaac Logart of Havana tonight at St. Nicholas Arena. Akins weighed 146, Logart 144½ pounds.

Judge Joe Agnello voted for Akins 6-4 and Judge Frank Forbes saw it 5-4-1 for Akins. Referee Ray Miller scored it 5-4-1 for Logart. The AP card had it even 4-4-2. The crowd of 1,300 paying $2,026 crowded around ringside after the verdict was announced to yell at the officials.

There were no knockdowns although the Cuban was wrestled to the floor in the second. At the end Logart had a swollen left eye and a cut under the right eye.

Logart fought a cute hide-and-seek battle, cutting loose with frequent quick flurries that bothered Akins. The St. Louis welter, ranked No. 5 among the contenders, seemed bewildered when forced to back up.

Akins, an 8 to 5 favorite couldn't seem to get untracked in the early rounds. Only a fast finish against his tiring 22-year-old opponent won the vote of the two judges both of whom gave Akins the last two rounds.

Red Hot Boston Red Sox Open Series In New York Tonight

Yanks Groggy Since July 4 Double Defeat

Cleveland To Battle Detroit, White Sox Visit Kansas City

NEW YORK, Aug. 8 (AP)—Still groggy after their troubles with the western teams of the American League, the New York Yankees tomorrow night face the red hot Boston Red Sox who started their downfall.

Last time Boston came to town, the Yankees coddled a cozy 6½ game lead. They were pulling away from the field and talking of out-doubling Brooklyn.

The Red Sox brought the Yankees down to earth with a thump by sweeping a July 4 doubleheader, and the Yankees have not been the same since. Little by little, their lead shrunk until it disappeared completely and Chicago took over. Although the Yankees managed to regain the top for a day or so, they never again took command.

Going into the big three-game series with the Yankees, the Yankees trail league-leading Chicago by three percentage points. The White Sox get a chance to fatten up on a Kansas City team that has been unusually rugged in recent days, while third-place Cleveland meets fifth-place Detroit.

The Yankees limp into the Red Sox series with a dull record of losing 22 of their last 34 games. Boston has put every Fenway Park fan in a pennant mood by winning 43 of their last 59 starts.

Casey Stengel, the Yankee manager, said it seemed "every day we're battling somebody new for first place."

"I wouldn't be surprised if the Red Sox series turned out to be the toughest of them all," he added.

Hygienic Beats Johnsons, 10-5

Hygienic Sanitation upset first place Johnson's Grocery in a City Softball League game yesterday at Campobello by the score of 10-5.

Joe Niland went the distance for the winners and kept seven hits well spaced. Wayne Lewis, who started on the rubber for the league leaders, was charged with the loss.

Don Palmer of Hygienic and Dan of Johnson's garnered two hits each. Bobby Christ starred for the winners with several nice catches in centerfield.

Schute's Roofers spilled Kelly Retail Store at East Side Field by the score of 10-3 and remained four games behind the leaders.

"Sonny" Method garnered three hits. Jack Martin pounded a triple and single and turned in two sparkling one-handed catches in left field and Meade and Perrell had two safeties each. Jack Mayo hit safely twice. Harry Widows lapped a triple and Crabtree belted a two-run homer for Kelly. Joe Biggs went the route for the victors.

McGee's Restaurant edged the Old Germans at Stitzer Field by the score of 4-3. The winners occupy the league cellar but they are now only two games out of fourth place.

Louie Arnone hit for the circuit and George Harris, winning pitcher, smacked a double for McGee's. Paul McGregor obtained a double and single and Bob Mattingly had a two-bagger for the Old G's. Scores:

Rotary And Moose Score At Oakland

OAKLAND, Md., Aug. 8—The Rotary Club swamped the Woodmen, 18-3, and the Moose won over the Country Club, 9-3, in Oakland Pony League games today.

Duling, James, S. Temple and Sanders shared eight of the Rotary team's 10 hits. Dewitt smacked a double and single to pace the Woodmen. Darkness halted the game at the end of the 5th inning.

Kelley headed the 13-hit assault unleashed by the Moose with a double and three singles to his credit. Martin hit safely thrice and Callis, Wine and Colaw collected two hits each. Shaffer had two hits and Bill Paugh blasted a triple for the Country Club. Scores:

COUNTRY CLUB	010	020	0-3	6	3

Fort Hill Wins In Rifle Series

Beats Mountain Top, Simpson Sets Pace

WESTERN MD. RIFLE LEAGUE	W	L
Fort Hill	3	0
Mountain Top	2	1
LaVale	0	3

Fort Hill swept the special position match series by downing Mountain Top, 1420-19x to 1407-21x, in the Western Maryland League's ninth smallest event fired Sunday at the Frostburg range. The three international-type position contests featured 100 yard shooting in the kneeling and standing positions and were initiated this summer on an experimental basis by league officials.

Frank Simpson's 376-10x score was a big factor in Fort Hill's win over previously undefeated Mountain Top, and was high tally for the meet. Mountain Top's George Porter turned in 358-3x as the losers' top mark.

Hercules trounced a short-handed LaVale team, 1399-22x to 995-7x, also at Frostburg. Jim Spitznogle's 373-4x topped the winners. LaVale's best was 342-1x by Leo Ford.

Next Sunday the regular series of prone position matches will be resumed with the firing of Match No. 10 at the Frostburg and Oakland ranges. This contest will be the familiar Dewar Course, 20 shots at 50 yards and 20 shots at 100 yards, with telescopic sights.

McQuinn Quits Game, Sells Sports Goods

George McQuinn is back at his sporting goods business in Alexandria, Va., a prime example that the days of a manager in baseball—whether a big league or minor stuff—are numbered.

McQuinn made his debut as pilot of the Atlanta Crackers this season. He was the Crackers' 25th manager, a publicity blurb said. If it makes any difference, the Crackers now are playing for their 27th manager.

McQuinn, who failed to set the defending Southern association champs going in the right direction this season, quit recently. Marv Rackley took over as temporary manager for seven days and then Clyde King, a veteran of the Brooklyn organization, took over for the balance of the season.

Akins weighed 146, Logart 144½ pounds.

Judge Joe Agnello voted for Akins 6-4 and Judge Frank Forbes saw it 5-4-1 for Akins. Referee Ray Miller scored it 5-4-1 for Logart. The AP card had it even 4-4-2.

The crowd of 1,300 paying $2.025 crowded around ringside after the verdict was announced to yell at the officials.

There were no knockdowns although the Cuban was wrestled to the floor in the second. At the end Logart had a swollen left eye and a cut under the right eye.

Logart fought a cute hide-and-seek battle, cutting loose with frequent quick flurries that bothered Akins. The St. Louis welter, ranked No. 5 among the contenders, seemed bewildered when forced to back up.

Akins, an 8 to 5 favorite couldn't seem to get untracked in the early rounds. Only a fast finish against his tiring 22-year-old opponent won the vote of the two judges both of whom gave Akins the last two rounds.

Pony League Booster Game Is Set Sunday

A Booster game will be staged by the East and West All-Stars of the Bi-State Pony Baseball League at Westernport Sunday at 2 p. m. for the purpose of raising funds to send the players to either Washington or Pittsburgh to witness a major league game. If enough money cannot be realized from the Booster game, the amount raised will be used to give the players of the circuit a dinner.

Gene Baker's Homer Nets Cubs 1-0 Win Over Brooks

41,860 See Chicago Sweep Series; Jones Beats Don Newcombe

CHICAGO, Aug. 8 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs swept a three-game series by beating Brooklyn 1-0 today before a ladies' day crowd of 41,860.

It marked the first time since 1947 that the Cubs swept the Dodgers in a Wrigley Field series. The victim was 18 game winner Don Newcombe.

The Chicagoans beat big Don a second time when Gene Baker blasted his eighth homer with one out in the eighth inning of the tense, thrilling game. It was Baker's third hit of the day—half the Chicago total against Newcombe.

Jones Bags 10th Win
Lanky Sam Jones snapped a personal six-game losing skid when he held the Dodgers to four hits for his tenth triumph, first since July 3.

Jones walked six and fanned seven, striking out Newcombe to end the game for his third shutout.

Newcombe, who dropped a 9-5 decision to the Bruins at Brooklyn June 12, fanned eight and walked but one.

The Cubs got to Newcombe for four hits in the first three innings. Then Newcombe had a string of 12 straight putouts before Bob Speake opened the Chicago seventh with his second single.

Nothing came of this opening as Newcombe retired the next three Cubs. Don Zimmer had tossed out Dee Fondy for the first out in the eighth when Baker connected.

Gene, who previously had belted a double and single, drove a 3-and-2 pitch into the left field seats.

Load Bases Twice
The Dodgers twice loaded the bases against Jones, turning this trick in the second and fifth.

The Dodgers also left two runners stranded in the eighth as Gil Hodges flied to Jim King for the second out and the inning ended when Jackie Robinson forced Roy Campanella, whose two singles added up to half of the Dodger hit total.

Senators, Phillies, Cards And Red Sox Win Playoff Games

Dapper Dan Baseball League playoffs opened yesterday with the Senators defeating the Pirates, 4-1, the Phillies downed the Dodgers, 6-4, the Cardinals walloped the Tigers, 12-0, and the Red Sox trimmed the Athletics, 9-3. The games were the openers of best-of-three series.

Roger Manges of the Senators yielded one hit, a homer by Carl Puffenburger as he bested the latter in a pitching duel last night at Penn Avenue Field. Each twirler struck out 13. Dickie Peck accounted for two of the Senators' five bingles.

In the opener of the twin bill, Allan Stevenson tossed a 5-hitter as the Red Sox triumphed. Homer Hardinger, Bobby Reed, Mike Long, Jimmy Rice and Jimmy Cox had two hits each for the Sox. One of Reed's blows was a 2-bagger. Charley Cross had three of the A's hits and drove in their three runs.

A three-hitter by Donald Nave, who whiffed a dozen, highlighted the Phillies' win over the Dodgers in an afternoon game at Penn Avenue. Singles by Nave and Charley Boone drove home the deciding runs in the top of the 6th inning. Roger Growden, Boone and Glenn Shipaway obtained two hits each for the Phils while Barbe homered for the Dodgers in the 4th. Boone mashed a triple and Growden and Shipaway had two-baggers. Mike Hadra, Dodgers' hurler, fanned nine.

Donnie Harden turned in a one-hit performance and whiffed 15 as the Cardinals crushed the Tigers in an afternoon game at Penn Avenue. The Cardinal hurler fanned the side in the first five frames. J. McKay's single in the second inning was the Tigers' only hit. Powell slammed a grand slam homer, Ronnie Morgan garnered three hits and Seilers and Nines had two bingles each for the winners. Planning a picnic, soon? Make sure your basket is packed with plenty of Old Export. For picnic time is a wonderful time to enjoy this really great beer. Out in the open when appetites are keen, you appreciate the big difference there is between Old Export and other beers.

The unchanging good taste of Old Export results from two essential policies in our brewing method. First, we always brew a little at a time . . . this gives us better flavor control of the expensive ingredients we use. And second, we only brew with mountain water. Together this means Old Export will taste good . . . everytime.

This two-part secret of finer beer has been called, by famous European brewmasters, the golden rule for brewing a great beer: "take the plant to where good water is, and brew a little at a time, many times a day".

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 8 (INS) — When I heard that Co-Producer David Diamond (with Sam Bischoff) is making a special trip to London to do all in his power to sign 11-year-old Winston Churchill III to star in "Prince and the Pauper," I thought some one had blown a fuse.

"What's so odd for a Churchill to act?" asked Diamond. "How about Sarah Churchill?"

A year ago, when David was in England, he was the guest of the Randolph Churchills and came to know the delightful grandchild of the former prime minister very well.

"He is an advanced child with marked talent," says the producer who, with his partner Sam Bischoff, will make "Prince and the Pauper" for Allied Artists release.

The Greek beauty, Irene Pappas, is the big excitement around MGM these days. With her face and dimensions, why not?

guess that she and my father have been married 36 years," she opines.

You'll get your first look at vegetable-eating Irene opposite James Cagney in "Tribute to a Bad Man."

Wouldn't you know it would happen? That luscious Swede, Helene Roubin, who won the Long Beach "Miss Universe" sweepstakes hands down, makes her movie debut in "The Benny Goodman Story" playing an American bobbysoxer!

Henderson Rules In Favor Of Union In Complaint

Chief Judge George Henderson has handed down an opinion dismissing a bill of complaint filed by a local B&O Railroad Company worker against the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen and Oilers as a result of the plaintiff losing his job for failing to pay his union dues as required under a contract between the railroad and brotherhood.

Encarino Aquallo filed suit against the brotherhood some months ago. The court's opinion states that Encarino Aquallo became a member of the union in October, 1951. He paid dues for four months only, and was dropped from membership on May 20, 1952 under the union constitution because he was 60 days in arrears on his dues.

Judge Henderson also stated that "the brotherhood took no immediate action under Section 4 of the agreement to have the plaintiff dismissed, but sent him repeated warnings, before citing him to the B&O Railroad on November 10, 1952." Aquallo was told of this action by the railroad on January 7, 1953 and advised of his rights under Section 4A of the union shop agreement.

The opinion also points out that prior to the time set for his dismissal, James B. Zink, general chairman of the brotherhood and also its bargaining agent, met with the plaintiff at a conference with several others, at which the situation was explained to Aquallo. Upon his promise to pay the $20 reinstatement fee, Zink withdrew the citation, enabling Aquallo to continue his employment with the railroad. No demand was made that he pay back dues, the opinion relates.

After Aquallo's failure to pay the $20 reinstatement fee and ig-norning several notices sent to him by the brotherhood on March 10, 1954 the union again cited Aquallo to the B&O for his failure to comply with terms of the union shop agreement, according to the opinion.

Judge Henderson has ruled that Aquallo has no right to resort to the courts, because he failed to carry his grievance to the highest tribunal of the brotherhood. The court also ruled that there is no justification in requiring the defendant to go to trial in a court of equity and produce witnesses on the vague chance that testimony of the two brotherhood officials, one from Baltimore and the other from Cincinnati, would differ from their affidavits or that it would reveal some theory on which the plaintiff might recover.

Monazite Strike

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, Aug. 8 (AP)—The government's geological surveys department announced this week the discovery of concentrated deposits of monazite, a radioactive mineral containing thorium.

The announcement said the deposits were found in varying amounts in creek river sands and gravels in the Rupununi district of the hinterland.

Council Plans To Advertise For Water Line

Water Commissioner William J. Edwards has been authorized to advertise for bids for a water line to Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's new plant at North Branch.

The Mayor and Council authorized Edwards to make the move yesterday.

The 18-inch line to the $34,000, 900 glass plant will cost in the neighborhood of $700,000, sources have said.

In another action connected with the water line, council approved an agreement with the B&O Railroad for right-of-way for the line under railroad property. The agreement provides the city will pay the railroad $10 a year rental, a fee which was termed "very reasonable" by the city.

A number of routine reports and orders were presented to council today.

City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson was authorized to issue a check for $300 to Dr. J. T. Singewald, director of the State Department of Geology, Mines and Water Resources at Johns Hopkins University, as a contribution toward continuation of the stream gauging investigation in cooperation with the Upper Potomac River Board.

Council voted to withhold a check for $52,069.36 to be paid to Central Trust Company, Altoona, in behalf of Moyer Brothers Construction Company until the assignment for funds has been approved. The money represents a partial payment for work done between July 1-30 on the sewage treatment plant here. The contractor wants the money paid to the bank instead of direct to him.

Several property acquisitions in Ridgeley were approved. The sites needed for flood control project work were owned by Elmer T. Royce and Gertrude M. Royce, Aron H. Bean and Nellie M. Bean, and Bertha A. Imes.

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan said police made 581 arrests and fines totaled $937 last month. There were 19 fire calls with only minor damage.

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city and county health officer, listed 10 communicable diseases for July. There were 19 dental clinics held for 78 patients. The report listed 118 births and 56 deaths last month.

Parking meter inspector Harry M. Whisner reported collections the week of July 24 at $677.67 and for July 31 $720.35, an increase for the period of $42.68.

A report of receipts and disbursements by Finance Commissioner John J. Long listed the following balances as of August 1: General, $330,087.78; water operative, $49,602.93; general improvement bond, $119,887.21; sewer bonds of 1931, $14,486.60; and sewerage treatment plant bonds, $162,485.02.

Council filed a letter from George W. Lucas, president of the Building and Construction Trades Council (AFL) in which he expressed appreciation for council's efforts in getting the flood control project.

Lucas said it will be of great benefit and protection to the city and had provided work for many of the group's members.

Former Resident Aids In Search For Body

A former Cumberland man is one of three state police officers who recovered the body of a Baltimore man who drowned Sunday while swimming in the North Branch of the Patapsco River near Marriottsville in Howard County. He is Trooper Grover N. Sensabaugh, who has been a member of the force for about two years. The drowned man was 23-year-old Wayne Vernon Teets. Police said he apparently got caught in swift water and was carried downstream. The body was found in the rapids of the Patapsco.

Henderson Rules In Favor Of Union In Complaint

Chief Judge George Henderson has handed down an opinion dismissing a bill of complaint filed by a local B&O Railroad Company worker against the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen and Oilers as a result of the plaintiff losing his job for failing to pay his union dues as required under a contract between the railroad and brotherhood.

Encarino Aquillo filed suit against the brotherhood some months ago. The court's opinion states that Encarino Aquillo became a member of the union in October, 1951. He paid dues for four months only, and was dropped from membership on May 20, 1952 under the union constitution because he was 60 days in arrears on his dues.

Judge Henderson also stated that "the brotherhood took no immediate action under Section 4 of the agreement to have the plaintiff dismissed, but sent him repeated warnings, before citing him to the B&O Railroad on November 10, 1952." Aquillo was told of this action by the railroad on January 7, 1953 and advised of his rights under Section 4A of the union shop agreement.

The opinion also points out that prior to the time set for his dismissal, James B. Zink, general chairman of the brotherhood and also its bargaining agent, met with the plaintiff at a conference with several others, at which the situation was explained to Aquillo. Upon his promise to pay the $20 reinstatement fee, Zink withdrew the citation, enabling Aquillo to continue his employment with the railroad. No demand was made that he pay back dues, the opinion relates.

Coffee Confusion Goes On And On

A coffee break is in order to review the latest dispatches from the coffee front. On the day Washington decides there is cause to hope that more traditional prices will soon be quoted for the bean, Brazilian dispatches report a killing frost which is interpreted in that country as heralding higher prices for coffee.

Americans in the throes of the hot spell that has been searing most of the nation for weeks, will be reluctant to recognize the possibility of cold weather harming anything or anybody. And they find it easy to recall that over the years growers of other crops have been accused of using the cry of killing frosts as a prop for high prices.

Washington says that, with Americans having demonstrated they will do without coffee rather than pay prices such as the 1954 high of $1.35 a pound retail, a 19 per cent drop in imports of coffee last year has seen retail prices toboggan to 95 cents a pound and less. Another factor cited in sizing up the outlook for cheaper coffee is the maturing this year of millions of coffee bushes Brazil planted in the wake of the 1949-50 boom. Millions more were set out last year and will be producing in 1959.

Washington tells of the millions of bushes Brazilian growers have planted to catch the high prices prevailing when they were set out. Dispatches telling of the cold snap refer to "hundreds of thousands" of bushes killed by the cold. Deduct hundreds of thousands from millions and there still ought to be enough to produce a coffee surplus.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Propaganda Machine

Back in June 1955 in the distant era before good will came upon us, the Soviet Near Eastern Service, a radio operation like the Voice of America, speaking in Persian, grew wildly excited about what it claimed was very bad advice given to the people of Iran by the Voice of America.

This is the first paragraph of a rather long broadcast:

"Some time ago a listener asked the Voice of America whether it is desirable for Iran to develop her industries or agriculture. The Voice of America replied that Iran should not develop and expand her industries, explaining that industrial development is generally suitable for countries with a small area but large population. Such an answer is far from the truth, and does not tally with well-known historic facts."

True, such an answer would not tally with well-known historic facts. It would be a ridiculous answer. So I became interested and sought to learn why the Voice of America would say anything so foolish. I inquired of Theodore C. Streibert, the director of the United States Information Agency which runs the Voice of America. He sent me the text of the broadcast upon which the Russian anti-American propaganda was based. The Voice of America broadcast was made on June 15; the Moscow one on June 24.

Here is the Voice of America broadcast:

"Iraqi: . . . Mr. Abdullah Haqai wants to know whether it is better for Iran to become an industrial country or an agricultural country.

"Ghahramani: Well, that is a problem. Miss Iraqi, what do you think?

"Iraqi: Well, industry and agriculture are the two principal foundations of the economy of a country. And no country can do without any one of the two. But of course the natural conditions of countries have extraordinary effects on this question.

"Ghahramani: Obviously a country like Germany which has a population comparatively greater than available areas of arable land should per force concentrate on industry so that through the sale of its industrial products it may be able to provide its agricultural needs.

"Iraqi: That is right. This is a good instance for Germany is the best example of an industrial country. But as I said before, in my opinion Iran is such that it has possibilities for both agriculture and industry.

"Ghahramani: In my opinion since Iran is a vast country and has vast areas of arable land, the people of Iran should, in the first place, endeavor to increase their agricultural produce and meanwhile extend their efforts in order to provide their industrial needs."

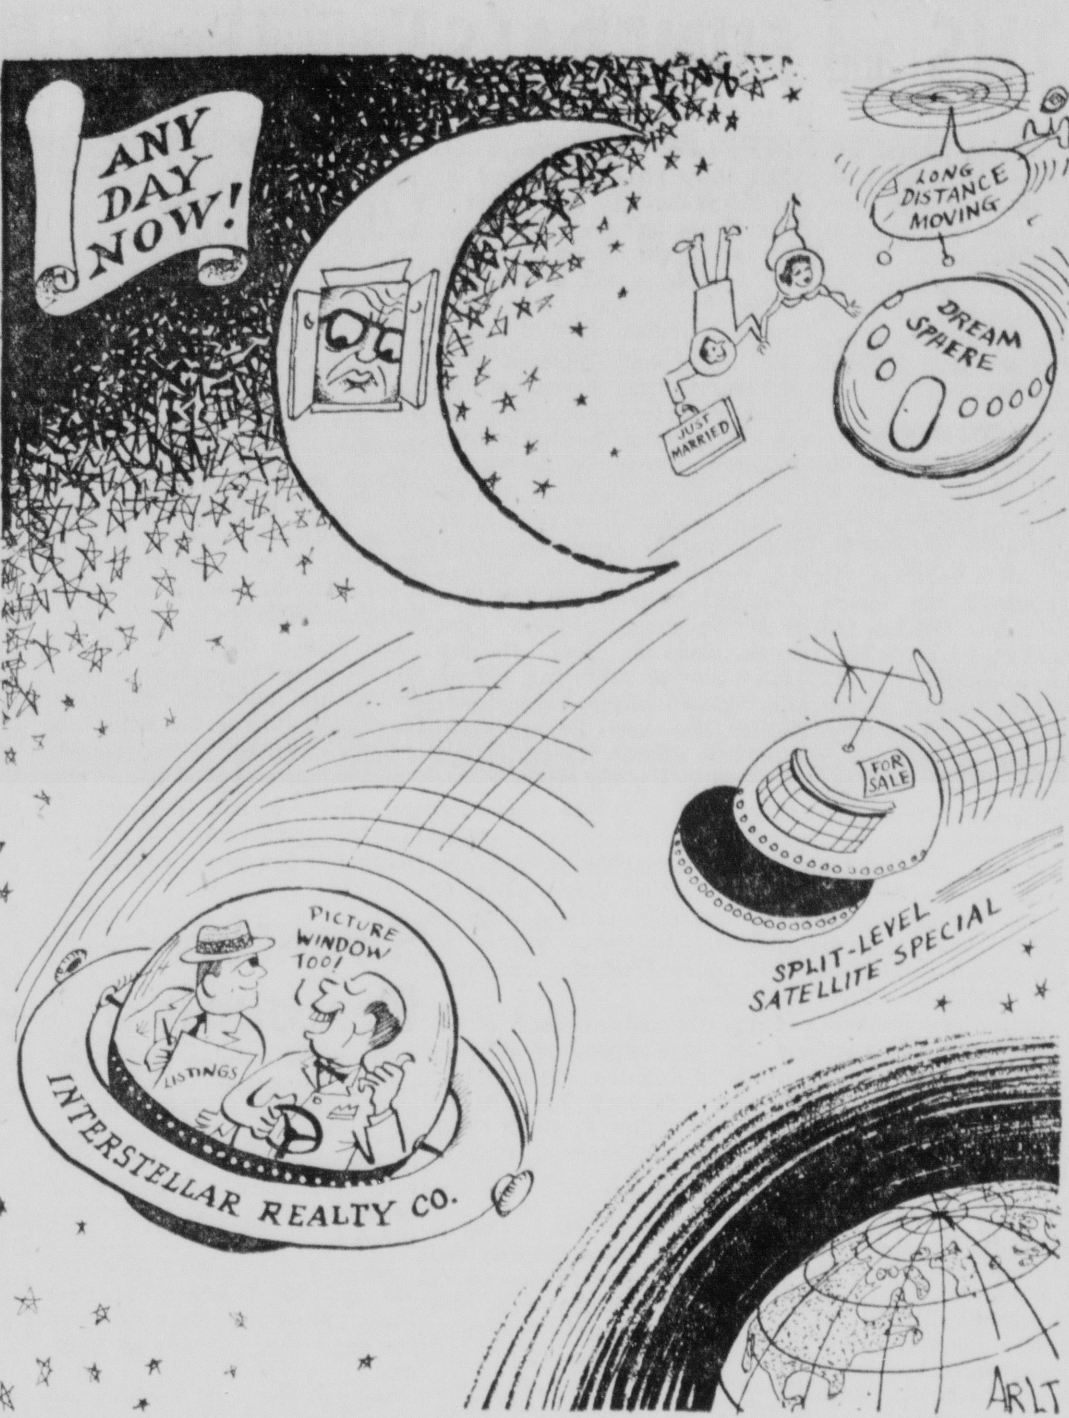

The distortion of the truth by Moscow in this particular instance is significant because as nationalism becomes more intensive, a desire for industrialization grows almost into a mania. Unfortunately, not every nation can afford to manufacture everything that is manufactured anywhere upon this earth. For instance, not every nation can afford to manufacture a hydrogen bomb; in some instances the cost could absorb most of their national income. This discussion could reach the absurdity that every country produces steel and no country produces wheat.

It would appear that the discussion between Iraqi and Ghahramani is sound and the distortion by Moscow sheer anti-American propaganda. What I find so hard to understand is why this discussion takes place at all; the Iraqis will do as they please, anyhow. Do we also hand out gratuitous advice to the lovelorn?

I have never been able quite to understand the propaganda policy of the United States. What are we trying to do? What are we trying to say to the various peoples of the earth? If it is to explain the nature of the American system of life, we are not succeeding because the evidence is that we are so badly understood even by intelligent people. Several years ago, Dorothy Thompson wrote a piece complaining about how difficult it has been for her to get intelligent foreigners whom she encountered to read basic American material. Why do they not want to understand us; yet they talk so much and so loudly about us?

" . . . And It Used To Be A Quiet Neighborhood"

Red China Must Change Status To Get In UN

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Unless Red China withdraws its troops from North Korea and agrees to a plan for the unification of the whole country under the auspices of the United Nations, there is no possibility even of considering the admission of the Peiping government to the U. N.'s Security Council.

This is the plain meaning of a pointed comment by President Eisenhower at his press conference last week the words of which were reported though their significance was generally overlooked. Here is exactly what the President said:

"Now several times I have stated that as long as Red China is branded as an aggressor by the United Nations, which it still is, due to the fact that its armies are still in Korea, we have no choice of our own, and I don't know how the United Nations has a choice of its own.

Made Principal Point
"There are other outstanding complaints which I have outlined time and again, and I have no idea that under existing circumstances, there would be a change of the kind you indicated in our policy."

The President originally used the phrase "branded as a dictator by the United Nations" but corrected himself later by saying he had intended to use the word "aggressor." His questioner had inquired specifically as to American policy toward Red China commenting that "generally the atmosphere seems to be one in which people now think there has been a change in the attitude of our government toward the possible recognition of the legitimacy of the Chinese government, that is the Chinese Communist government."

It is important to note that while Mr. Eisenhower referred to other "complaints" against the Red Chinese he made his principal point the presence of Red China's troops today in North Korea. His argument was that Red China not only had been branded an aggressor by the United Nations but "still is due to the fact that its armies are in North Korea."

The evolution of our knowledge of myasthenia gravis has been long and halting. Progress has come in spurts but up to now we know little about this form of muscular weakness and less about its cure. The first mention of the disorder in the medical literature was in 1672, but for more than 200 years nothing was written about it except for occasional notations. Then in 1930, Dr. Harriet Edgeworth of Kankakee, Ill., herself a victim, published her experiences.

Dr. Edgeworth developed mildly progressive symptoms of myasthenia after an attack of influenza pneumonia in 1918. By 1925, muscle incapacity had advanced greatly and in 1927 she had become totally helpless because of difficulty in walking, chewing, swallowing, and breathing.

She and her medical friends began searching for a remedy and, because she knew she would die if help could not be obtained, she submitted to one experiment after another in numerous hospitals.

Finally, ephedrine was tried and in April of 1930 she wrote: "In a few days I was able to rise from a chair unaided and walk the distance of the room. Now I am able to walk the distance of several rooms, to get in and out of a car with small help, and to speak and chew without difficulty. I can raise my arms to my head for a few minutes, write a short letter, and read the newspaper without seeing double."

In May of 1933 she was reporting further improvement and the following January she wrote: "The daily ingestion of ephedrine for over three years has changed me from a totally helpless, bedridden person to my present condition wherein I live a comparatively comfortable life of some usefulness."

Dr. W. A. Evans wrote in 1934: "While ephedrine may never prove to be a cure, it seems established that it can be used to keep the patient in reasonably good health and strength for years."

This cautious appraisal proved correct: ephedrine was not curative. Later, other preparations were tried including glycine, glutamic acid, and glycochol. Then came neostigmine, which remains more or less the standard treatment today. It does not cure myasthenia but it enables the majority of victims to lead active lives and has reduced the death rate in the more serious forms of the disease.

Mysuran chloride is the latest

This, in the President's view, gives neither the United States nor the United Nations any other choice but to bar the way to the admission of Red China. It is a consistent position. It means that admission is being denied not on the basis of the kind of government established ideologically by the Communists at Peiping but on the kind of government that exists as an external menace—a government that not only has refused to honor international obligations in the treatment of foreign nationals but also has refused even to acknowledge that it sent its armies into Korea.

The specific claim is still made by Peiping that only "volunteers" went to Korea and intervened—more than 1,000,000 of them. Since that claim was made, the Soviet Union, a member of the UN, has publicly stated that it supplied arms and ammunition to the Red Chinese to help fight the war in Korea.

Denounced UN
A little more than a year ago a Big Five conference was held at Geneva at which Red China's foreign minister, Chou En-lai, was present. He made a speech denouncing the UN and declaring emphatically that Red China would not accept UN auspices in holding elections in Korea. He characterized the Western nations as "aggressors"—a view incidentally which the supposedly neutral and disinterested Krishna Menon of India appears to share. Small wonder he is popular in Peiping.

Mr. Eisenhower has dramatically called attention to Red China's status as a continuous aggressor. Most people may have forgotten that originally a United Nations commission was sent to Korea and recommended that an independent government be set up and that the

They claim a national emergency exists every time a light bulb conks out in the Tennessee Valley.

Even with Alabama Sparkman teeing off on Sherman Adams the issue is colder than a well-digger's lunch.

Sparky accused the atomic Adams of tampering with the Security and Exchange Commission. The commish was setting on the Dixon-Yates power caper. Like Jonah in the whale they were studying the situation from all angles.

But there's no more chance of keeping the Dixon-Yates political Water power is getting important now that somebody dynamited 16 thousand cubic yards of stone off Niagara Falls. First thing you know they'll be running that thing through a pipe.

And it wouldn't be a bad idea if Sparky, Kefauver and Lehman organized a commission to count the Great Lakes again. Should be five.

remedy. It is more powerful and twice as long acting as neostigmine and has fewer side effects. The initial reports are most encouraging.

Among other groups investigating this disease is the Myasthenia Gravis Foundation, Inc., which was organized in 1952 by victims, their relatives and friends, and physicians.

This group is doing its best to obtain the wherewithal to study myasthenia and disseminate the information to all concerned.

ALLERGY TO MILK
C. R. writes: If a person is allergic to milk, what symptoms does he have?

REPLY
Some develop indigestion or diarrhea. Others suffer from hives, asthma, or nasal congestion. In babies, the usual symptoms are colic or eczema.

FAILING HEART
F. D. writes: What is meant by a decomposed heart? This person has endocarditis.

REPLY
A decomposed (not decomposed) heart means the old ticker is beginning to fail and can no longer deliver the goods. Symptoms include shortness of breath, indigestion, cough, and swelling of the legs. It is in this condition that digitalis works best.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Deilen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Conflict Of Interest Like Talbott's Encountered By Many Congressmen

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Basically the conflict-of-interest that forced Secretary of the Air Force Talbott out of the cabinet is also what poisons the political bloodstream through the lobbies of Washington.

There is hardly a senator or congressman in Washington who does not have a conflict of interest. He has to choose whether he will serve the people who voted for him or the big campaign contributors who put up the money to win those votes.

Talbott was serving two masters — the Air Force and his own private company which sought juicy contracts to do personnel engineering for manufacturers of Air Force equipment.

But when Northern congressmen voted for a natural gas bill to increase the price to Northern housewives, yet simultaneously failed to pass a badly needed school bill, many of them were voting because money had been poured into their campaigns or their party's campaigns by the gas-oil-utility lobby.

The family of Congressman Oren Harris of Arkansas, who introduced the natural gas bill, was the recipient of one interesting little favor. During the war, when the most precious possession of a woman was nylon stockings, Mrs. Harris received a generous supply from Ham Moses, head of Arkansas Power and Light. Harris, however, has always played close to the gas-oil-power lobbies.

Talbott Got Caught
Chief difference between Talbott and many congressmen is that he was caught. His record of trying to influence defense contracts because of campaign contributions, however, has not entirely caught up with him and is equally serious.

The Senate subcommittee investigating Talbott did not go into these contracts. In fact, it was not anxious to investigate Talbott at all, and did so only after receiving a tip from a very high business executive and after a member of the full committee had purposely leaked the official documents to the New York Times to force the subcommittee's hand. Even such crusading senators as Symington of Missouri and Jackson of Washington dropped Talbott like a hot potato and almost kissed him on the cheek when he left the witness stand.

Perhaps this complacency was because of the nagging knowledge that nearly every senator and congressman likewise is caught in a "conflict of interests" almost as serious as that which trapped Talbott.

Reason is the cost of being elected to high office. The 1950 Republican senatorial primary in Pennsylvania, for instance, cost the two sides a total of $1,170,000. The Democratic primary in Florida that year was estimated by the St. Petersburg Times as costing $2,000,000.

Where do these huge sums come from? Not from average voters but from men with special favors to get from government—utility magnates, oil kings, liquor sachems, timber moguls, railroad bosses. The so-called "limit" of $5,000 per candidate is violated repeatedly by attributing each $5,000 to a different member of the donor's family. Some infants have given $5,000 to major candidates before the infant was out of the bassinets!

The voters seldom know all this. They realize vast sums are spent on TV, Radio, signboards, brochures, and paid workers, but they don't know the source of the money. Yet a "conflict of interest" is created, just as definitely as in the case of Secretary Talbott. Can Senator Butler of Maryland, for instance, vote impartially on a bill to increase the price of natural gas when he received $10,000 in campaign money from oil-gas tycoon Clint Murchison and Jack Murchison, and $5,000 from Mrs. Porter of Houston?

Labor Funds

WASHINGTON

Until the release of all the American flyers imprisoned in China had been positively assured, great care had to be taken to avoid needlessly protracting their ordeal. But now it can be told how the liberation of all the 15 American airmen then held in Chinese jails was tentatively arranged many months ago.

The man who did the job was the secretary-general of the United Nations, Dag Hammarskjöld. He made the deal with the Chinese prime minister, Chou En-lai, in the course of his trip to Peiping in January.

Everyone must recall the mingled atmosphere of mystery and optimism that surrounded Hammarskjöld's return from Red China. Everyone must recall, too, at the time of Hammarskjöld's return, the Peiping government publicly invited families of the imprisoned flyers to visit their sons. The as-yet untold truth is that the two phenomena were intimately linked.

Fearful Propaganda

There was optimism about Hammarskjöld's accomplishment for the very simple reason that the Chinese Communists had agreed to release the flyers forthwith if their families were first permitted to visit them. This was the face-saver that Peiping wanted. The family visits would have permitted the Chinese Communist leaders to announce that they had decided to let the flyers go in response to their parents' moving pleas for mercy. Hammarskjöld brought back a positive, cut and dried commitment that this course would be followed.

But at that time, the Eisenhower administration was still paying very great deference to the viewpoint that now seems to be represented only by the shrill and solitary voice of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy. The policy-makers felt that helping to save the face of the Peiping government might look like appeasement. They further felt that the Peiping government would make propaganda hay of the visits of the flyers' families.

Hence the family visits were strongly discouraged by the State Department, although, as far as it is, of course, just as possible for labor to be a special interest as industry. Yet it's almost impossible for a trade union to conceal its contribution, while the corporations conceal them in every campaign. They merely pay a big bonus to some executive or lawyer, who in turn contributes this bonus to the campaign kitty of some politician who is running the corporation's errands in public life. This loophole is not available to unions.

The entire situation had riddled Congress with so many "conflicts of interest" just as reprehensible as Talbott's, that many administrative officials, like Talbott, wonder why they must be above suspicion when their accuser, in Congress are so saddled with financial obligations.

What's The Remedy?

No. 1: Senator Tom Hennings, Democrat of Missouri—is pushing a law to tighten the reporting of election campaign contributions so the general public will know who the small group of financial contributors are who influence policy for 150,000,000 people. Although Hennings' bill was acted upon favorably by the Senate Rules Committee, almost solid Republican opposition left it high and dry as Congress adjourned.

No. 2: Senator Wayne Morse, Democrat of Oregon—Introduced a bill at my suggestion in 1947, requiring every member of Congress to declare his net worth and all other sources of annual income. The immediate motive behind the Morse bill in 1947 was this column's expose of the cotton speculations of Senator Elmer Thomas, Oklahoma Democrat, when he was chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee. Morse re-introduced this bill this year.

No. 3: Morse's Young Colleague, Senator Dick Neuberger—Has been reviving a proposal which Teddy Roosevelt first made in 1908 and which later was pushed by George Killion, treasurer of the Democratic National Committee. Teddy recommended that both major parties received their campaign financing out of the U. S. Treasury and that private donations be barred.

No. 4: Philip Graham, publisher of the Washington Post and Times-Herald—Urges a system of small donations from average citizens. He points out that sums of from $1 to perhaps $50 or $100 never could put a candidate under such severe obligation that he would violate his convictions or his oath of office. It is when the donations soar to the $5,000 figure and over that a candidate becomes saddled with the "conflict of interests."

Now It Can Be Told

By Joseph Alsop

can be learned, no member of any of the flyers' families was told what great consequences to them hung upon the Chinese Communist invitation. And as none of the flyers' families in the end defied the State Department's warnings, the deal that Hammarskjöld had made automatically fell through and the flyers were not released until just now.

Got Public Meeting

The price the Communists demanded of Hammarskjöld, after all, was only that the flyers' families should visit their sons—or rather that one or two of the families should pay the visit, for the understanding was that this would be sufficient to release the entire group of flyers. That price was refused by the Eisenhower administration as being too high, and the 15 American airmen paid for the refusal with an additional six months in Chinese jails.

Now, however, the price the Communists have demanded and have got is a public, face-to-face meeting of American and Chinese representatives at the ambassadorial level. In the New Delhi negotiations that prepared the present meeting in Geneva between U. Alexis Johnson and Wang Pan-nan, the Peiping government undertook that the flyers would be automatically released if the meeting could be agreed upon.

The meeting is of course an infinitely greater face-saver for Peiping than the family visits originally stipulated for. At the time when Hammarskjöld visited Peiping, indeed, the mere suggestion of such a face-to-face, public meeting would have been rejected with vituperative indignation.

One of the clues to the great intervening change of heart is, of course, the change of public sentiment that occurred when the country looked the idea of fighting a war for Formosa squarely in the eye, and concluded that this was a most distasteful prospect. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles in effect denied the existence of the other clue when he declared the other day that we would "never negotiate with a pistol to our heads."

Coffee Confusion Goes On And On

A coffee break is in order to review the latest dispatches from the coffee front. On the day Washington decides there is cause to hope that more traditional prices will soon be quoted for the bean, Brazilian dispatches report a killing frost which is interpreted in that country as heralding higher prices for coffee.

Americans in the throes of the hot spell that has been searing most of the nation for weeks, will be reluctant to recognize the possibility of cold weather harming anything or anybody. And they find it easy to recall that over the years growers of other crops have been accused of using the cry of killing frosts as a prop for high prices.

Washington says that, with Americans having demonstrated they will do without coffee rather than pay prices such as the 1954 high of $1.35 a pound retail, a 19 per cent drop in imports of coffee last year has seen retail prices toboggan to 95 cents a pound and less. Another factor cited in sizing up the outlook for cheaper coffee is the maturing this year of millions of coffee bushes Brazil planted in the wake of the 1949-50 boom. Millions more were set out last year and will be producing in 1959.

Washington tells of the millions of bushes Brazilian growers have planted to catch the high prices prevailing when they were set out. Dispatches telling of the cold snap refer to "hundreds of thousands" of bushes killed by the cold. Deduct hundreds of thousands from millions and there still ought to be enough to produce a coffee surplus.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Propaganda Machine

Back in June 1955 in the distant era before good will came upon us, the Soviet Near Eastern Service, a radio operation like the Voice of America, speaking in Persian, grew wildly excited about what it claimed was very bad advice given to the people of Iran by the Voice of America.

This is the first paragraph of a rather long broadcast:

"Some time ago a listener asked the Voice of America whether it is desirable for Iran to develop her industries or agriculture. The Voice of America replied that Iran should not develop and expand her industries, explaining that industrial development is generally suitable for countries with a small area but large population. Such an answer is far from the truth, and does not tally with well-known historic facts."

True, such an answer would not tally with well-known historic facts. It would be a ridiculous answer. So I became interested and sought to learn why the Voice of America would say anything so foolish. I inquired of Theodore C. Streibert, the director of the United States Information Agency which runs the Voice of America. He sent me the text of the broadcast upon which the Russian anti-American propaganda was based. The Voice of America broadcast was made on June 15; the Moscow one on June 24.

Here is the Voice of America broadcast:

"Iraqi: . . . Mr. Abdullah Haqai wants to know whether it is better for Iran to become an industrial country or an agricultural country."

"Ghahramani: Well, that is a problem. Miss Iraqi, what do you think?"

"Iraqi: Well, industry and agriculture are the two principal foundations of the economy of a country. And no country can do without any one of the two. But of course the natural conditions of countries have extraordinary effects on this question."

"Ghahramani: Obviously a country like Germany which has a population comparatively greater than available areas of arable land should per force concentrate on industry so that through the sale of its industrial products it may be able to provide its agricultural needs."

"Iraqi: That is right. This is a good instance for Germany is the best example of an industrial country. But as I said before, in my opinion Iran is such that it has possibilities for both agriculture and industry."

"Ghahramani: In my opinion since Iran is a vast country and has vast areas of arable land, the people of Iran should, in the first place, endeavor to increase their agricultural produce and meanwhile extend their efforts in order to provide their industrial needs."

The distortion of the truth by Moscow in this particular instance is significant because as nationalism becomes more intensive, a desire for industrialization grows almost into a mania. Unfortunately, not every nation can afford to manufacture everything that is manufactured anywhere upon this earth. For instance, not every nation can afford to manufacture a hydrogen bomb; in some instances the cost could absorb most of their national income. This discussion could reach the absurdity that every country produces steel and no country produces wheat.

It would appear that the discussion between Iraqi and Ghahramani is sound and the distortion by Moscow sheer anti-American propaganda. What I find so hard to understand is why this discussion takes place at all; the Iraqis will do as they please, anyhow. Do we also hand out gratuitous advice to the lovers?

I have never been able quite to understand the propaganda policy of the United States. What are we trying to do? What are we trying to say to the various peoples of the world? If it is to explain the nature of the American system of life, we are not succeeding because the evidence is that we are so badly understood even by intelligent people. Several years ago, Dorothy Thompson wrote a piece complaining about how difficult it has been for her to get intelligent foreigners whom she encountered to read basic American material. Why do they not want to understand us; yet they talk so much and so loudly about us?

Red China Must Change Status To Get In UN

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Unless Red China withdraws its troops from North Korea and agrees to a plan for the unification of the whole country under the auspices of the United Nations, there is no possibility even of considering the admission of the Peiping government to the U. N.'s Security Council.

This is the plain meaning of a pointed comment by President Eisenhower at his press conference last week the words of which were reported though their significance was generally overlooked. Here is exactly what the President said:

"Now several times I have stated that as long as Red China is branded as an aggressor by the United Nations, which it still is, due to the fact that its armies are still in Korea, we have no choice of our own, and I don't know how the United Nations has a choice of its own."

Made Principal Point
"There are other outstanding complaints which I have outlined time and again, and I have no idea that under existing circumstances, there would be a change of the kind you indicated in our policy."

The President originally used the phrase "branded as a dictator by the United Nations" but corrected himself later by saying he had intended to use the word "aggressor." His questioner had inquired specifically as to American policy toward Red China commenting that "generally the atmosphere seems to be one in which people now think there has been a change in the attitude of our government toward the possible recognition of the legitimacy of the Chinese government, that is the Chinese Communist government."

It is important to note that while Mr. Eisenhower referred to other "complaints" against the Red Chinese he made his principal point the presence of Red China's troops today in North Korea. His argument was that Red China not only had been branded an aggressor by the United Nations but "still is due to the fact that its armies are in North Korea."

The evolution of our knowledge of myasthenia gravis has been long and halting. Progress has come in spurts but up to now we know little about this form of muscular weakness and less about its cure.

The first mention of the disorder in the medical literature was in 1672, but for more than 200 years nothing was written about it except for occasional notations. Then in 1930, Dr. Harriet Edgeworth of Kankakee, Ill., herself a victim, published her experiences. Dr. Edgeworth developed mildly

This, in the President's view, gives neither the United States nor the United Nations any other choice but to bar the way to the admission of Red China. It is a consistent position. It means that admission is being denied not on the basis of the kind of government established ideologically by the Communists at Peiping but on the kind of government that exists as an external menace—a government that not only has refused to honor international obligations in the treatment of foreign nationals but also has refused even to acknowledge that it sent its armies into Korea.

The specious claim is still made by Peiping that only "volunteers" went to Korea and intervened—more than 1,000,000 of them. Since that claim was made, the Soviet Union, a member of the UN, has publicly stated that it supplied arms and ammunition to the Red

Chinese to help fight the war in Korea.

Denounced UN

A little more than a year ago a Big Five conference was held at Geneva at which Red China's foreign minister, Chou En-lai, was present. He made a speech denouncing the UN and declaring emphatically that Red China would not accept UN auspices in holding elections in Korea. He characterized the Western nations as "aggressors"—a view incidentally which the supposedly neutral and disinterested Krishna Menon of India appears to share. Small wonder he is popular in Peiping.

Mr. Eisenhower has dramatically called attention to Red China's status as a continuous aggressor. Most people may have forgotten that originally a United Nations commission was sent to Korea and recommended that an independent government be set up and that the progressive symptoms of myasthenia after an attack of influenza pneumonia in 1918. By 1925, muscle incapacity had advanced greatly and in 1927 she had become totally helpless because of difficulty in walking, chewing, swallowing, and breathing.

Little Known Of Cure For Myasthenia Gravis

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deilen

She and her medical friends began searching for a remedy and, because she knew she would die if help could not be obtained, she submitted to one experiment after another in numerous hospitals. Finally, ephedrine was tried and in April of 1930 she wrote:

"In a few days I was able to rise from a chair unaided and walk the distance of the room. Now I am able to walk the distance of several rooms, to get in and out of a car with small help, and to speak and chew without difficulty. I can raise my arms to my head for a few minutes, write a short letter, and read the newspaper without seeing double."

In May of 1933 she was reporting further improvement and the following January she wrote: "The daily ingestion of ephedrine for over three years has changed me from a totally helpless, bedridden person to my present condition wherein I live a comparatively comfortable life of some usefulness."

Dr. W. A. Evans wrote in 1934: "While ephedrine may never prove to be a cure, it seems established that it can be used to keep the patient in reasonably good health and strength for years."

This cautious appraisal proved correct: ephedrine was not curative. Later, other preparations were tried including glycine, glutamic acid, and glycochol. Then came neostigmine, which remains more or less the standard treatment today. It does not cure myasthenia but it enables the majority of victims to lead active lives and has reduced the death rate in the more serious forms of the disease. Mysuran chloride is the latest

Guarantees Needed

There can be no settlement of the Korean question without guarantees that the independence of an all-Korean government chosen in free elections will be respected by the Communists.

There can be no settlement of the Formosa issue until free elections can be held inside China so that all Chinese may choose their form of government uncoerced by a dictatorship and its armies.

To admit an aggressor government into the UN now would cause the leaders of both political parties in the United States to demand withdrawal of America from the UN. They are on record to that effect. The loss of this country to the UN is too big a price for European countries to pay to appease the Communists in the interest of trade or anything else. For if America splits with its allies on the Red China issue it could conceivably affect foreign aid and other U. S. relations with Europe.

The President's remarks at his press conference show why admission of Red China to the U. N. is unthinkable on the basis of anything that has happened thus far. But they also constructively point out the course Red China must follow if she wants to be taken into the family of civilized nations.

In the New Delhi negotiations, that prepared the present meeting in Geneva between U. Alexis Johnson and Wang Pan-nan, the Peiping government undertook that the flyers would be automatically released if the meeting could be agreed upon.

The meeting is of course an infinitely greater face-saver for Peiping than the family visits originally stipulated for. At the time when Hammarskjold visited Peiping, indeed, the mere suggestion of such a face-to-face, public meeting would have been rejected with vituperative indignation.

One of the clues to the great intervening change of heart is, of course, the change of public sentiment that occurred when the country looked the idea of fighting a war for Formosa squarely in the eye, and concluded that this was a most distasteful prospect. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles in effect denied the existence of the other clue when he declared the other day that we would "never negotiate with a pistol to our heads."

The bidding.
South West North East
1 NT Pass 2 NT Pass
3 NT Pass Pass Pass

South, with balanced distribution, honors in every suit, and 17 high-card points, had a virtually ideal one-notrump opening, and when North raised on his 8 points and good intermediates, South properly bid the game.

West opened the spade jack, and South, seeing that he probably would be able to keep East off lead for some time, won the trick. He then led to the diamond

West, in with the diamond queen, now faced a rather difficult decision. Could he drop the spade queen by laying down the ace, or could he get his partner in by shifting to another suit so that East could return a spade through declarer's marked queen? West did not like either of these possibilities. It was extremely unlikely that the spade queen would fall, and it was equally unlikely that East had a sure entry. West finally made a decision: he exited with the ten of spades.

South won with the spade queen and collected two more diamond tricks while West discarded a heart and a club. East, resolutely holding on to his spade eight and his three hearts, parted with a low club.

Now, trying for a throw-in, South cashed the king and ace of hearts, drawing West's cards in that suit, and then played the spade six, hoping that West would have to lead a club away from the king after taking his spade tricks. West, however, had saved the spade four, and it was East who won this present lead and returned a club. That was too much for the declarer.

Man Is Guilty On Parole Violation

The 34-year-old Rawlings man found guilty on a charge of assaulting a 14-year-old boy in South End on July 15 was found guilty of violating his parole when brought to Trial Magistrates Court yesterday.

Magistrate Donald W. Mason had found Ernest Guy Gordon guilty of the assault charge and paroled him with the provision that he reside elsewhere.

Gordon was found to have returned to his home on July 23 and July 24, and also this past weekend.

Magistrate Mason increased his parole one year, making the total probationary period three years after Gordon voluntarily agreed to stay away from this county.

Mason said Gordon had returned from his job in New York state to get his clothes and other belongings. When picked up by State Police he had his car packed and was ready to return.

INEXPENSIVE SATISFYING

LET'S STOP IN THE MEN'S DEPARTMENT—THEY'RE HAVING A SALE OF SUITS

BIG SALE—MEN'S SUITS DO YOU CALL THIS A SALE?

COME WITH ME INTO THE WOMEN'S DEPARTMENT

SALE Ladies! Here

THIS IS WHAT I CALL A SALE

THERE MAY BE ONE CHANCE—I'LL HAVE TO SEARCH THIS LOCKER!

WELL, BRICK! I DON'T WANT TO BE SLAPPED UP AGAINST THAT MOUNTAIN!

NEITHER DO I—HERE THE REMOTE CONTROL UNIT—MAYBE IT WILL WORK!

THAT LITTLE BOX?

WHILE BRICK FEVERISHLY WORKS ON THE CONTROL UNIT, THE TOP IS DRAWN NEARER AND NEARER TO DESTRUCTION...

HELLO, SCHMIDT, HAVE YOU CHANGED YOUR MIND ABOUT SELLING THE SECRET ANTI-RADAR PAINT?

KEEP 'IM TALKING, THE FBI MEN WILL TRACE THE CALL.

THEN YOU'LL NEVER LIVE TO GO THRU WITH THAT DESTRUCTION TOMORROW.

CLICK!

HELLO... HELLO! THEY HUNG UP!

OH, DEAR ME! THEY'RE GOING TO KILL ME!

DON'T LET 'IM SCARE YOU, FELLA, THEY'LL NEVER GET NEAR YOU.

WHARF'S ALL TH' FLATLAND TOURISTERS, MAYOR BARLOW?

DON'T GET FLUSTERED, SHERIFF TAIT—THEY'LL START SWARMIN' ALL OVER TH' HOLLER IN A DAY OR TWO

I SHORE HOPE SO—I WENT TO GREAT PAINS TO GIVE 'EM A HEARTY WELCOME

THAT'S PLUMB CIVIC-HEARTED OF YE, SHERIFF—WHAT DID HE HAVE IN MIND?

I PRINTED UP FIVE THOUSANT JAYWALKIN', SPEEDIN' AN' DOUBLE-PARKIN' TICKETS

AN AFTER WE SUNK THE DELTA BELLE THE LAW MEN CAME UP IN THEIR BIG CUTTER AN' ARRESTED CAPN BARL AN' CHIEF BOYLE. THEY LET 'EM GO!

COURSE, CAPN BARL BROKE THE LAW BY TAKIN' A RIVER BOAT WITH CONDEMNED BOILERS OUT TO SEA! BUT I DON'T RECKON THEY'LL THROW 'EM INTO JAIL FOR IT...

AN DON'T YOU WORRY NONE, ANNIE—THEY WONT THROW YOU INTO JAIL! YOU'RE TOO YOUNG!

YES SIR, I KNOW!

BUT I AIN'T TOO YOUNG TO BE THROWN INTO SOME KINDA INSTITUTION!

HE LEFT A MESSAGE FOR YOU, WE RANG YOUR ROOM...

DARN! I SHOULD'VE LEFT WORD I WAS IN TH' GRILL

Dear Knolly— Sorry I missed you when you were in New York for one day and hoped I'd see you. I have a big surprise for you! Helen and I don't get married! Your talks to her had a great deal of influence on me and...

AT THE LAST MOMENT WE REALIZED THAT IT WOULD BE A MISTAKE... HELEN STILL HADN'T GOTTEN OVER THE LOSS OF GEORGE...

DON'T MOVE, DAD! WE'LL MAKE A STRETCHER TO CARRY YOU IN TO BED...

UGH— I'M ALL RIGHT, DEAR...

JUST HAD THE WIND KNOCKED OUT OF ME...

EASY NOW, MARTIN...

OH! MY ANKLE!...

NEAR ONE OF THE CITY'S MANY OVERASSES, THIS LAZY AUGUST DAY, TWO SMALL BOYS BUSY THEMSELVES AT PLAY.

AND IT'LL BE OUR SECRET CLUB HOUSE.

AND WE'LL PRINT THE NAME OF OUR CLUB ON THE WALL, AND WE WON'T LET ANYBODY IN.

YOU GET THE PAINT AND WE'LL PUT OUR CLUB'S NAME RIGHT HERE.

WHAT IS THAT?

JUST A PIECE OF CLOTH—IN THE CEMENT.

CHESTER COULD...

The bidding

South West North East
1 NT Pass 2 NT Pass
3 NT Pass Pass Pass

South, with balanced distribution, honors in every suit, and 17 high-card points, had a virtually ideal one-notrump opening, and when North raised on his 8 points and good intermediates, South properly bid the game.

West opened the spade jack, and South, seeing that he probably would be able to keep East off lead for some time, won the trick. He then led to the diamond

In Memoriam
KENNEY—In loving memory of my dear son, Sgt. James Donald Kenney, who was killed Aug. 9, 1943.
I have only your memory dear James, To remember my whole life through.
But the sweetness will linger forever As I treasure the image of you.
LOVING MOTHER

Magistrate Baron Asks Larger Staff For Juvenile Court

Cites County's Delinquency Problem

"Allegany County's Juvenile Court staff is inadequate!"

These are the words of Juvenile Magistrate Morris Baron, who has returned to his Union Street office from the recent Maryland Governor's Conference on Juvenile Delinquency at College Park.

In making the plea for additional assistants, Baron also characterized the county Juvenile Court system as "unusual and unsatisfactory."

Staff Outlined

He continued: "The prevailing thought among people who are interested in the treatment and prevention of juvenile delinquency is that the county Juvenile Court should have a staff consisting of a judge, clerk, one stenographer-typist, one case worker, and two probation officers."

"This would be a minimum requirement for the efficient operation of the Juvenile Court," Baron stated. "Yet in Allegany County, the court staff consists of a judge, clerk, and one probation officer."

The duties of the clerk include the receipt and disbursement of non-support money, issuing of warrants, and taking care of complaints about payments by letter and telephone.

The stenographer-typist would attend to mail, copy testimony in court hearings, and transcribe the same in the records of the court. The probation officers would handle the probation cases and the case worker would investigate cases before they are brought up for a hearing so that the judge may get a clear picture of the background and antecedents of the case.

Judge Quoted

"Judge Charles E. Moylan of the Juvenile Court of Baltimore, stated in a speech at the recent delinquency conference that state law provides that the juvenile court can call upon the county commissioners for what they consider to be necessary help, and that commissioners are obliged to provide it," Baron said.

Baron noted that the lack of an adequate staff interferes with the fight against juvenile crime. "Without a case worker and probation officers to check on youths who have been placed on probation or given punishment, the errant youngsters soon realize no one is checking up on them, and they needn't worry about fulfilling their obligations."

A bill embodying some Magistrate Baron's suggestions was introduced in the last session of the General Assembly by former Senator Robert B. Kimble but it failed of passage after being amended in the House of Delegates.

Referring to the Act of 1945 which created the present Juvenile Court system, Baron said that "it is insufficient and unfair that the city of Cumberland be made to contribute one-third of the salary of the judge and clerk, while the county pays the remaining two-thirds. There is no fairness in that. The county should pay all expenses. Why should the city be taxed with the rest of the county and then pay twice for the services of the court?"

"Because of this, there seems to be a divided responsibility for the workings of the court," he continued.

Baron indicated the recent conference on delinquency, which brought together all of the workers in the juvenile field in Maryland, "presented a clear picture of what is to be done and how to proceed to cure this, one of America's growing evils."

Keyser Radio Station Owners Buy WTRX At Bellaire, Ohio

Owners of Radio Station WKYR of Keyser, have purchased Station WTRX at Bellaire, Ohio, according to an announcement yesterday. Purchase price was reported in the neighborhood of $85,000.

Robert K. Richards and Walter Patterson, who also own Station WHAR, Clarksburg, in addition to the Keyser station, plan to consolidate the Bellaire AF and AM operation into their group of active stations in the West Virginia-Ohio field.

Richards heads the public relations firm of Robert K. Richards in Washington, while his partner Patterson is a former resident of the Wheeling area where he was, prior to World War II, program director of Station WWVA and director of the Wheeling Steel Hour. He served as a Navy officer during the war and is now operating director of the radio chain.

An application has been filed with the Federal Communications Commission for transfer of the Ohio station.

Council To Hold Public Meeting On Zoning Plan

Industrial Highway Proposal Involved

The Mayor and City Council yesterday decided to take immediate action on the new zoning plan for the proposed Industrial Highway segment of the Crosstown Expressway after receiving a report from the secretary of the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commissioners.

Thomas B. Finan, city solicitor, said that the city will advertise a public meeting to discuss the proposed zoning plan recommended by the commissioners giving at least 15 days notice of the meeting as provided in the city code.

Following the meeting, if no objections are made to the zoning program, the Mayor and City Council will be able to act on the recommendations, Finan said.

In a letter to the council yesterday, Secretary Anthony Sacli of the zoning commissioners reported on the public meeting held by the zoning board last week at which time the program was adopted when no objections to the plans were made. Sacli urged the city to take immediate action to expedite the program.

The principal aspects of the zoning program are:

That beginning at Evitts Creek at the city line east and running the proposed Industrial Boulevard be zoned for industrial purposes.

That the section between the two lanes of the boulevard on Ontario Street to Thomas Street be made a business zone.

That the north side of the highway about 225 feet parallel to and concentric with the north limits of the right of way be zoned for business use from Evitts Creek to Thomas Street.

That when the 225 foot line of demarcation for business use runs through a lot, the whole lot shall be zoned for business.

Truck Strike Is Settled

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 8 (AP)—Mayor David Lawrence announced tonight that an agreement has been reached to settle a month old strike of Local 249 AFL Teamsters against the Western Pennsylvania Motor Carriers Assn.

Terms of the settlement were not immediately announced. A meeting of the union was called for 10 a.m. tomorrow to ratify the terms. The carriers scheduled a similar session for 1:30 p.m.

Announcement of the settlement came as police began working out plans to escort certain trucks through Allegheny County to prevent further violence.

The strike began nearly a month ago after the union and the association could not agree on a new contract. Since the walkout began there have been several instances of trucks being stopped and drivers beaten.

Two Cars Collide On Braddock Road

An elderly woman passenger was shaken up but no one was injured when two cars collided Sunday night in the 900-block of Braddock Road.

City police who investigated said a car driven by Gilbert Neal Thompson, 22, of Frostburg, swung into the wrong lane of traffic while rounding a curve and collided with a vehicle operated by Stanley Esen Hanna, 49, of Keyser, W. Va.

Mrs. Ethel Light, 70, a passenger with Hanna was shaken up but apparently was not hurt.

Weather

Cumberland residents welcomed relief from the torrid heat spell and relaxed in the cool, invigorating weather which retained its grip on the area yesterday. The high temperature reading was 83 degrees and the low was 67. At 9 p.m. the mercury hovered about the 70 degree mark. The local high was also a peak for the state, as the only other marks approaching it were Baltimore and Waterloo's 78. The humidity here at 6 p.m. was an "uncomfortable" 54 per cent. No rainfall was recorded.

Eckhart Building Swept By Fire

This is a view of the three-family house on Beer Alley in Eckhart, which was badly damaged by fire last evening after an oil stove exploded as one of the occupants was about to prepare the evening meal. Frostburg and Clarksburg volunteer firemen brought the blaze under control and neighbors assisted some of the occupants in the removal of their furniture. No one was hurt in the explosion or blaze, but one teen-age Eckhart youth, Harry Everline, sustained a badly cut hand while helping carry furniture from the premises.

Fire Damages Three-Family Eckhart Home

Blaze Starts As Stove Explodes

An exploding oil stove caused a fire in a three-family apartment at Eckhart last evening about 5:30 o'clock, left 17 persons homeless and extensively damaged the building. No one was reported injured.

Members of the Frostburg and Clarksburg Volunteer Fire Departments who fought and controlled the blaze, said the entire building was damaged by fire, smoke and water, and one end of the structure was destroyed. Neighbors and firemen were able to carry some of the furniture and clothing of two families to the street, but some of the furnishings were damaged in the handling.

Preparing Meal

The fire started in the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. James Green, while Mrs. Green was preparing the evening meal on an oil cooking stove. She was unable to explain just what happened, but firemen indicated the stove exploded. The kitchen of the apartment was enveloped in flames almost immediately and by the time firemen arrived, the entire end of the row of apartments was ablaze. Mr. and Mrs. Green ran to safety and notified other tenants.

In the center apartment, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Frisby, and their infant daughter, fire spread to the second floor portion and the entire apartment was damaged by smoke, water and fumes.

The apartment in the undamaged end of the building was occupied by Mary Green, ten children of varying ages, and "Dusty" Waites. The upstairs of this apartment was damaged and the remainder of the residence suffered damage from smoke, fumes and water.

Neighbors Help

A number of neighbors ran to the assistance of the tenants as soon as the fire was noticed, and began carrying furniture and the belongings of the Frisbys and Greens to the outside.

This Eckhart blaze was the third major residential fire in the county in the past five days. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Shaffer at Mt. Savage was destroyed on Thursday afternoon, and the family has since moved to Eckhart. They lost practically all their possessions and had no insurance.

Sunday afternoon, lightning struck and badly damaged the home of Mr. and Mrs. Olie Young on Temperance Row in Barton. This loss was only partially covered by insurance, and the house must undergo extensive repairs.

Last night, the Red Cross reported that the families at Eckhart were given emergency food orders and were assured further help in finding housing.

Mary Green, who owns the property in Eckhart, believes the section she occupied with her family can still be utilized as living quarters. Mr. and Mrs. James Green went to Frostburg to reside temporarily with relatives and the Frisbys were reported with friends last night.

Residents in Eckhart expressed the opinion that all three families will need some assistance.

Legislative Unit To Visit Area For Four Days

State Council Plans Trip Here Tomorrow

The Legislative Council and two special subcommittees of the General Assembly will visit Western Maryland this week.

The Council will begin its four-day tour of Garrett and Allegany counties tomorrow.

At a meeting Wednesday night in the Fort Cumberland Hotel here, members might consider whether to press for an investigation of the State Roads Commission in the face of Gov. McKeldin's request for a "study" by the Green Commission.

Sidetrack Charged

Recently, Del. Simpkins (D-Somerset) accused the Governor of trying to sidetrack a thorough investigation. He said he would bring up the matter at the next Council meeting.

The Council plans a study of State parks and forests during the western tour. The improvement of U.S. 40 west of Hagerstown also will be discussed.

Thursday, a subcommittee studying Maryland training schools will join the Council. Together they will inspect the new Green Ridge Forestry camp near Flintstone in Allegany County.

The camp was opened last April by the Department of Public Welfare as part of the rehabilitation program for juvenile delinquents. The subcommittee is headed by Sen. Goodman (D-Balto 5th).

Third Study

A third group, the subcommittee studying possible changes in unemployment compensation laws to tie in with so-called "guaranteed annual wage contracts" recently signed by the automobile industry will meet in the Garrett County community of New Germany. The subcommittee is headed by Sen. Dempsey (D-Balto 3).

As State laws now are written, there is some question of the validity of the contracts which guarantee laid-off workers payments to supplement regular State jobless benefits. Officials of the Department of Employment Security believe the supplemental payments would rule out State benefits.

State Senator Charles M. See announced yesterday that any individuals or organizations which would like to bring business before the special public session of the Legislative Council in City Hall on Thursday at 3:15 p.m., should get in touch with him at his Union Street office.

West Side Groups Plan Block Party

A Bicentennial block party will be held Thursday night on Paca Street between Smallwood and Lee Streets, sponsored by the Moose Chapters of the Brothers of the Brush and the Belles of the Bonnet.

The West Side Cavemen, of which B. F. Sarver is president, and the Moose Chapter with Kenneth Wise, president, are cooperating in the public affair.

The program of square and round dancing, music and entertainment is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock, concluding at 11 p.m. The Moose and the Bicentennial groups say the affair is open to the general public.

This is the first such activity held on the West Side in connection with the bicentennial, although Kangaroo Courts and other entertainment has been featured in all other sections of the city during the past few weeks.

CARLETON O. SHORE

Named Teacher At Allegany

Carleton O. Shore, Oldtown Road, has been appointed mathematics teacher at Allegany High School, according to Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of Allegany County Schools.

He will replace William J. Donahue, 815 McDonald Terrace, who has been named guidance director of Allegany High.

Donahue will fill a position which has been vacated since 1951 when Miss Dorothy H. Byers resigned. Shore graduated from Fort Hill High School in 1949 and completed studies at Frostburg State Teachers College in 1955.

He also attended Hagerstown Junior College during 1952-53.

Lab Equipment Bids Received

The District Equipment Company of Hyattsville, with a bid of $3,870, was the apparent low bidder for supplying and installing science laboratory furniture in the new wing of Flintstone High School.

Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of Allegany County schools, yesterday said only one other bid was opened at the board office.

The Flowers School Equipment Company of Richmond, Va., submitted a bid of $4,042.46. The Jesse Hump Company of Baltimore declined to bid because its equipment could not meet specifications.

Both bidders said they could complete the installation work by December 1955. The equipment includes two laboratory tables and an instructors demonstration desk.

Tabulating the bids was Arthur G. Ramey, supervisor of transportation and coordinator of interscholastic athletics.

Mt. Royal Plans Baby Show Tomorrow

Mt. Royal Playground will hold its last weekly contest tomorrow with a Baby Show beginning at 7:30 p.m. Instead of real babies, children of the playground will dress as "babies" and prizes will be given for the best-dressed, prettiest and largest.

After the show, according to Joe Butler, director, prizes will be presented to the three children who have accumulated the most points during the various competitions during the summer.

Births

Dr. and Mrs. Norman Thrope, former residents, of 1334 North Potomac Street, Hagerstown, announce the birth of a son yesterday in Washington County Hospital there.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. DeMarino, 393 Broadus Avenue, Clarksburg, announce the birth of a son, August 3, in St. Mary's Hospital, Clarksburg. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Michael DeMarino, Eckhart.

Mr. and Mrs. Jennings Robinson, 822 Columbia Avenue, a son yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Beal, 226 Meyers Avenue, a son yesterday.

Boys Confess Burglary Spree After Arrest

Admit Safecracking At Allegany High

Painstaking police work resulted in the solving of 10 burglary cases, including the safe cracking which netted $800 from Allegany High School, over a period of several months ending with the arrest of four juvenile boys ranging in ages from 11 to 14 last night.

Two of the youngsters, aged 11 and 14, admitted participating in eight of the offenses while the other two juveniles, both brothers, were responsible for two other cases involving vandalism as well as breaking and entering.

Closes Series

Detective Joseph H. Stutcher said the admissions from the four boys closed the series of breakings and enterings which had harassed city police since May 20 when Allegany High School office safe was broken into and $800 removed.

Most of the incidents occurred since July 1 and involved two youngsters who went on a rampage, doing all of their looting between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m.

Detective Stutcher said the principal break in the cases came through the vigilance of Officer Carl Williams, who spotted two of the youngsters in the vicinity of Clinebell's Bakery on North Centre Street Sunday night and broke last night with the admission of two of the boys that they were the ones who broke into the Allegany High School safe last May.

Bakery Burglary

Clinebell's Bakery reported a burglary early Sunday night with the proprietor saying the lock on the back door of the building had been broken off with a large piece of concrete. The refrigerator doors in the bakery were found opened and at least one pie was discovered missing.

Descriptions of the two boys seen lingering in the vicinity by Officer Williams resulted in the arrests of two of the youngsters who admitted breaking into the bakery.

They also admitted being responsible for breaking into the Cumberland Cement and Supply Company, squirting hoses and burning flares and causing other damage.

Through a lead given police officers by these two boys, the second paid was brought in for questioning.

The second pair broke down under questioning and admitted their part in seven breakings and enterings since July 1, including the theft of a .32 caliber revolver from the Texaco Station in the Narrows and the stealing of several boxes of doughnuts and cakes from the Eskimo Snack Bar on Route 40 in the Narrows just Sunday night. They admitted tossing the gun in Wills Creek later.

Marked closed also were the burglary of Robert Reavner's Texaco Station, 104 Winew Street, July 4 when the rear window was removed and cigarette machines broken into. Several packs of cigarettes were taken as well as some money from the machines.

On July 7 the second pair admitted stealing a box of two dozen ladies hats from the G. C. Murphy Company, later throwing the box away when they realized what they had taken.

The two removed the rear window of the R. W. Norris and Sons Company, 100 Winew Street, on July 26 and broke open a soft drink and candy machine. Also taken was a $35 clock radio.

On August 2, the pair broke a window and reached in to open the latch on a side door to enter the Steinla Trucking Company. There they broke into soft drink and candy machines and attempted to crack the company's safe, knocking off the dials on the safe door.

On August 3 they entered Mas-on's Jug Store, 239 Williams Street, by breaking the glass on the rear door. They took approximately two dozen packs of cigarettes and some small change there.

Then, under intense grilling last night the latter pair, picked up by Officer Kenneth Morrissey, who assisted Stutcher in the investigation, finally admitted breaking into the Allegany High School safe.

The oldest boy said the two of them entered the school during a class play in the auditorium, hid in the basement furnace room and after the janitor had quit at 1 a.m. they stole upstairs and entered the main office on the first floor.

They took a poker and hammer from the basement and used them to pound a small hole into the side wall of the large vault. The youngest and smallest entered the hole head first and searched around but said he was unable to find anything.

Both boys said they became frightened and left but didn't take any money.

The safe job was discovered the following morning by the janitor who first found the door to the office had been broken into.

Investigation showed some $800 in small bills and silver was missing. Police last night had not recovered the money.

Picnic Set Tomorrow For Junior Optimists

Cumberland's Optimist Club will hold its annual picnic for the Junior Optimist Boys' Club tomorrow at Minke's Park on Christie Road, with automobiles leaving Central YMCA at 5:30 p.m.

Youth Committee Chairman Frank Kaplon announced that games and swimming will be available, and said that about 35 boys are expected to attend.

Queens Of The United Nations

One of the features of the prologue to "Redskins and Redcoats" will be the appearance of these girls as the United Nations Queens. They are, left to right, Joan Bastian, Margaret Blake, Anne Dixon, Joan Wilt, Mary Louise Dressman, Leone Sacli, Marilyn Kreider, Roberta Seitz, Jani Walker, Rosemary Mullaney, Doris Sonner and Polly Young. They will be dressed in colorful costumes.

Keyser Radio Station Owners Buy WTRX At Bellaire, Ohio

Owners of Radio Station WKYR of Keyser, have purchased Station WTRX at Bellaire, Ohio, according to an announcement yesterday. Purchase price was reported in the neighborhood of $85,000.

Robert K. Richards and Walter Patterson, who also own Station WHAR, Clarksburg, in addition to the Keyser station, plan to consolidate the Bellaire AF and AM operation into their group of active stations in the West Virginia-Ohio field.

Richards heads the public relations firm of Robert K. Richards in Washington, while his partner Patterson is a former resident of the Wheeling area where he was, prior to World War II, program director of Station WVVA and director of the Wheeling Steel Hour. He served as a Navy officer during the war and is now operating director of the radio chain.

An application has been filed with the Federal Communications Commission for transfer of the Ohio station.

A Bicentennial block party will be held Thursday night on Paca Street between Smallwood and Lee Streets, sponsored by the Moose Chapters of the Brothers of the Brush and the Belles of the Bonnet.

The West Side Cavemen, of which B. F. Sarver is president, and the Moose Chapter with Kenneth Wise, president, are cooperating in the public affair.

The program of square and round dancing, music and entertainment is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock, concluding at 11 p. m. The Moose and the bicentennial groups say the affair is open to the general public.

This is the first such activity held on the West Side in connection with the bicentennial, although Kangaroo Kourts and other entertainment has been featured in all other sections of the city during the past few weeks.

CARLETON O. SHORE

Named Teacher At Allegany

Carleton O. Shore, Oldtown Road, has been appointed mathematics teacher at Allegany High School, according to Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of Allegany County Schools.

He will replace William J. Donahue, 815 McDonald Terrace, who has been named guidance director of Allegany High.

Donahue will fill a position which has been vacated since 1951 when Miss Dorothy H. Byers resigned. Shore graduated from Fort Hill High School in 1949 and completed studies at Frostburg State Teachers College in 1955.

He also attended Hagerstown Junior College during 1952-53.

Lab Equipment Bids Received

The District Equipment Company of Hyattsville, with a bid of $3,870, was the apparent low bidder for supplying and installing science laboratory furniture in the new wing of Flintstone High School.

Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of Allegany County schools, yesterday said only one other bid was opened at the board office.

The Flowers School Equipment Company of Richmond, Va., submitted a bid of $4,042.46. The Jesse Hamp Company of Baltimore declined to bid because its equipment could not meet specifications.

Both bidders said they could complete the installation work by December 1955. The equipment includes two laboratory tables and an instructors demonstration desk.

Tabulating the bids was Arthur G. Ramey, supervisor of transportation and coordinator of interscholastic athletics.

Mt. Royal Plans Baby Show Tomorrow

Mt. Royal Playground will hold its last weekly contest tomorrow with a Baby Show beginning at 7:30 p. m. Instead of real babies, children of the playground will dress as "babies" and prizes will be given for the best-dressed, prettiest and largest.

After the show, according to Joe Butler, director, prizes will be presented to the three children who have accumulated the most points during the various competitions during the summer.

Boys Confess Burglary Spree After Arrest

Admit Safecracking At Allegany High

Paintstaking police work resulted in the solving of 10 burglary cases, including the safe cracking which netted $800 from Allegany High School, over a period of several months ending with the arrest of four juvenile boys ranging in ages from 11 to 14 last night.

Two of the youngsters, aged 11 and 14, admitted participating in eight of the offenses while the other two juveniles, both brothers, were responsible for two other cases involving vandalism as well as breaking and entering.

Closes Series

Detective Joseph H. Sticher said the admissions from the four boys closed the series of breakings and enterings which had harassed city police since May 20 when Allegany High School office safe was broken into and $800 removed.

Most of the incidents occurred since July 1 and involved two youngsters who went on a rampage, doing all of their looting between the hours of 7 and 9 p. m.

Detective Sticher said the principal break in the cases came through the vigilance of Officer Carl Williams, who spotted two of the youngsters in the vicinity of Clinebell's Bakery on North Centre Street Sunday night and broke last night with the admission of two of the boys that they were the ones who broke into the Allegany High School safe last May.

Bakery Burglary

Clinebell's Bakery reported a burglary early Sunday night with the proprietor saying the lock on the back door of the building had been broken off with a large piece of concrete. The refrigerator doors in the bakery were found opened and at least one pie was discovered missing.

Descriptions of the two boys seen lingering in the vicinity by Officer Williams resulted in the arrests of two of the youngsters who admitted breaking into the bakery.

They also admitted being responsible for breaking into the Cumberland Cement and Supply Company, squirting hoses and burning flares and causing other damage.

Through a lead given police officers by these two boys, the second paid was brought in for questioning.

The second pair broke down under questioning and admitted their part in seven breakings and enterings since July 1, including the theft of a .32 caliber revolver from the Texaco Station in the Narrows and the stealing of several boxes of doughnuts and cakes from the Eskimo Snack Bar on Route 40 in the Narrows just Sunday night. They admitted tossing the gun in Wills Creek later.

Marked closed also were the burglary of Robert Reavner's Texaco Station, 104 Wineow Street, July 4 when the rear window was removed and cigarette machines broken into. Several packs of cigarettes were taken as well as some money from the machines.

On July 7 the second pair admitted stealing a box of two dozen ladies hats from the G. C. Murphy Company, later throwing the box away when they realized what they had taken.

The two removed the rear window of the R. W. Norris and Sons Company, 100 Wineow Street, on July 26 and broke open a soft drink and candy machine. Also taken was a $35 clock radio.

On August 2, the pair broke a window and reached in to open the latch on a side door to enter the Steina Trucking Company. There they broke into soft drink and candy machines and attempted to crack the company's safe, knocking off the dials on the safe door.

On August 3 they entered Mason's Jug Store, 239 Williams Street, by breaking the glass on the rear door. They took approximately two dozen packs of cigarettes and some small change there.

Then, under intense grilling last night the latter pair, picked up by Officer Kenneth Morrissey, who assisted Sticher in the investigation, finally admitted breaking into the Allegany High School safe.

The oldest boy said the two of them entered the school during a class play in the auditorium, hid in the basement furnace room and after the janitor had quit at 1 a. m. they stole upstairs and entered the main office on the first floor.

They took a poker and hammer from the basement and used them to pound a small hole into the side wall of the large vault. The youngest and smallest entered the hole head first and searched around but said he was unable to find anything.

Both boys said they became frightened and left but didn't take any money.

The safe job was discovered the following morning by the janitor who first found the door to the office had been broken into.

Investigation showed some $800 in small bills and silver was missing. Police last night had not recovered the money.

Picnic Set Tomorrow For Junior Optimists

Cumberland's Optimist Club will hold its annual picnic for the Junior Optimist Boys' Club tomorrow at Minke's Park on Christie Road, with automobiles leaving Central YMCA at 5:30 p. m.

Youth Committee Chairman Frank Kaplon announced that games and swimming will be available, and said that about 35 boys are expected to attend.
